NOT EDUCATION, ANNIHILATION

Prof. W. A. Wirt of Gary Thus Terms Methods of Keeping Boy in Straight-Jacket.

NOSE IN BOOK 6 HOURS DAILY

Originator of Famous Wirt Plan Explains it at County Teachers Meeting Today.

Up at Gary, the Indiana home of the steel corporation's mills where thousands of foreigners are employed, the children go to school eight hours a day and half of the number enrolled goes on Saturday; up at Gary they spend as much time on the playground if not more than they do in the class room; up at Gary they almost have to drive the school children home to their meals.

The unusual condition of things in the educational world at Gary was explained at the morning session of the Rush County Teachers Association at the Graham school building by Prof. W. A. Wirt, superintendent of the Gary schools and the sole originator of the Wirt plan which has accomplished such desired, but at first unbelievable ends.

"The average boy," said Prof. Wirt, "is a bundle of twist, wiggle and squirm. To put that boy in a straight jacket of a desk with his nose stuck into a book for five or six hours a day is not education; its annihilation.

"The playground is the first essential for education. We were not hampered by the lack of school buildings in Gary when we had few—and we do not have enough now to accommodate all the children—because we had the first rudiment of a school plant—God's great, free outdoors.

"I now confess that I believe there is some excuse for the manufacture of a school desk. They are needed in the teaching of reading, writing and arithmetic just as is a teacher, blackboard, pointer and books."

Prof. Wirt explained his big idea in teaching children in detail. A fourth of the teachers in Gary schools must be and are able to teach physical training. They must have two years of a good course of this sort before they are employed. A fourth of whom have to be able to teach special work such as gardening, nature study, domestic science and mechanical work. The other half of the teachers must be equipped to teach the rudiments such as spelling, reading, writing and arithmetic.

The class rooms, the work shops and the playgrounds are utilized every minute of the time during the day. A fourth of the children at any given building are on the playground all the time while the other three-fourths are engaged in either study, recitation or in the work shops. The periods are forty-five minutes in length. A period is spent on the playground by one class and another devotes the half to study and half to recitation.

There was a time, said Prof. Wirt, when the teaching of the rudiments of an education were sacrificed for specialists. Now, he declared, they are all specialists in the Gary schools. They are all selected because they want to be experts in their own particular line which they teach. He explained that they have every minute of their time and every ounce of their energy to devote to their subject.

"The effort of the literature teacher," he continued, "is to develop the child's taste for good literature. We have eliminated the bosses by each teacher doing his work as a specialist in his subject. Out of

RECOVERS STOLEN BICYCLE

Chief McAllister Finds Wheel Belonging to Frank Muire.

A bicycle stolen from Frank Muire, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Muire of West Seventh street, was found this morning in the rear of the Adams Produce company in South Main street by Chief McAllister. The wheel was taken last night from in front of the Cartmel grocery in Seventh street and this morning two boys were seen taking it to where it was hidden. The wheel was a valuable one and practically new. The police know the youthful robbers having received numerous complaints against them. Arrests will follow and an effort made to send the boys to Plainfield.

PROMISED FREE MEDICAL ADVICE

One Young Man Goes to Some Lengths in Order to Get Magazine Subscription.

SEVEN OF THEM WERE HERE

Further developments in regard to the crowd of young men who solicited magazine subscriptions in this city reveal that one of the young men promised one housewife of Rushville free medical treatment for two years after he was graduated from medical college if she would take his magazine proposition. She took it, but not on the strength of the promise he made.

It is said that there was a crowd of seven young people here at the same time and that they worked in pairs generally. They all used the same story which was in effect that they were young men who were making money to pay their way through college. In most instances they represented that they were local young men and that they were personally acquainted with the young people in the home at which they called, if there chanced to be any.

FOURTEEN PEOPLE WENT TO HAMILTON

They Report That Biedewolf Tabernacle Meetings There Are Progressing Wonderfully.

153 CONVERSIONS LAST NIGHT

Only fourteen people went to Hamilton, Ohio, last night to attend the Biedewolf tabernacle meetings which are in progress there. The crowd was lessened because it was impossible to get back here before two o'clock in the morning and because of the great expense attached. At first it was thought a hundred people could be persuaded to go and thus get a special train but this was impossible.

The people who went report that the meeting is having a wonderful effect in Hamilton. At last night's service while they were there, a hundred and fifty-three people most of them men, went forward. Collections of more than a hundred dollars are being taken every night, the local people say.

The P. O. S. of A. lodge will have work Monday night and desire a large attendance.

MAY SETTLE IT WITH PRIMARIES

Gov. Wilson May Require Settlement of Postmasterships by The Voters.

AGAINST PATRONAGE PLAN

There Are Many Candidates Here
But One Man Says he Wants Nothing.

With a number of candidates in the field for the post office appointment, it is very problematical as to just what the result will be. Samuel H. Trabue, Sr., father of Samuel L. Trabue, Democratic chairman, has authorized his son to announce that he is not a candidate for the postmastership.

"The Trabue family wants nothing," said the county chairman the other day, "and it is asking for nothing. But it is known that there are a number of avowed candidates in the field. Many have been mentioned in these columns, and it is likely that even more Democrats who have been working all these years to get in power believe that they are entitled to some of the pie.

More and more the sentiment in favor of settling postmasterships by primary elections spreads. It bids fair to become country-wide. The spoilsmen of the Democratic party—the men who want everything settled by a "pull" and without regard to the wishes of the people—are trying to build a back-fire against the primary movement, but the indications are that their effort will be fruitless.

The primary plan to relieve the situation was tried here once before—1893—when the Democrats came into power and there was a host of candidates for the job. There were fourteen Democrats who wanted to be postmaster, and in the election, in which only Democratic patrons of the post office voted, Will Meredith was elected by a good plurality.

Only eleven of the candidates entered into the agreement, the other three refusing. John A. Spurrier, Douglas Morris, now judge of the Indiana appellate court, and Dan Vorhan would not consent to the plan. The contesting candidates bore the expense equally and the election was held in the court house under the Australian ballot system.

A Washington, D. C. dispatch has the following to say on the subject: A storm is brewing in the Democratic party over the suggestion that the primary system be adapted to the selection of postmasters under the Wilson administration. The report has become widely circulated that President-elect Wilson, who is a stickler for primaries and an opponent of the spoils system, favors the selection of presidential postmasters by primaries in which the voters shall be the Democratic patrons of each office.

Nobody in authority to speak for the president-elect pretends to know exactly what his views are as to the manner in which these offices shall be filled, but he is one of the vice presidents of the National Civic Service Reform League and in a speech at New Haven last spring he said that it was patronage that kept the political machines alive and that the way to starve out the machines was to take away their patronage.

As president he would have the power to put the primary system into general effect in the selection of postmasters. It is only a custom which imposes upon him the duty of honoring recommendations for postmasters made by members of congress. He can abolish that custom in the twinkling of an eye and substitute for it the requirement that can-

COMMITTEE HAS $244.98 BALANCE

Report of Bert Mullin, Treasurer,
Shows Republicans Spent
$910.02 in Late Campaign.

CONTRIBUTIONS WERE $1155

Period Covered by Report Extends to Time Before Nominating Convention in March.

The report of Bert Mullin, treasurer of the county Republican central committee, which was filed with the clerk of the circuit court today in compliance with a clause of the corrupt practices act, shows that the committee spent from March 30, 1912 to the close of the recent political campaign $910.02 and received voluntary subscriptions amounting to $1155, which leaves on hands a balance of $244.98.

The report shows careful work and a clarity that is desired in such documents. All the expenses are carefully itemized and typewritten, revealing a lot of industry and care on the part of the treasurer of the committee.

The report covers the period from time when contributions were made to the committee for the county Republican nominating convention to the close of the campaign. It covers all the expenses of the nominating convention as well as those of the campaign proper.

There are seventy items of expenditures but the number of contributions is not so large. The largest individual contribution made was $125. One of this size was made by Fred Beale, candidate for county treasurer, and by J. K. Jamieson, candidate for county sheriff.

The largest individual contribution made by any man other than a candidate was $100. There was only one of these, and it was made by Thomas K. Mull of Manila. The bulk of the contributions were made by Republican candidates, candidates before the nominating convention as well as those who were nominated and sought to be elected.

The expenditures were for the usual campaign expenses such as for bands, Coliseum rent, postage, advertising, printing, stenographers, rent of headquarters, making poll books, poll book holders and other things incident to a campaign.

One of the big items was eighty dollars spent for postage. Another was seventy dollars paid to George Helm for his service. He was drafted as an assistant secretary who prepared all the poll books and made a list of the Republicans in Rush county who had registered. He did other clerical work about headquarters.

Fifty-three dollars had to be expended for the Coliseum the two times it was used and forty dollars in rent alone was paid for the tabernacle for the Watson meeting. Then there was a heavy expense of advertising the Watson meeting by sending automobiles to every town in this county as well as to surrounding counties and cities with printed matter.

There was a good sum of money paid out for bands at the Republican meetings here and for the Shelbyville excursion. The expense of printing of committee stationery and bills for each of the meetings here and at other points in the county was all borne by the central committee. Thirty dollars was paid in rent for headquarters.

SERVICES CALLED OFF.
There will be no services in any of the Glenwood churches for the next two Sundays because of the scarlet fever that is epidemic there.

IS HUNTING UNPOPULAR?

Licenses Are Not Selling as Fast as in Past Years.

Either fewer Rush county men are hunting this fall or else they are violating the law by hunting without a license because very few licenses have been sold by the clerk of the circuit court as compared with recent years. Up to date only ninety licenses have been disposed. During November last year more than two hundred were sold and in the same month two years ago three hundred were sold.

RESTRAINED FROM ENFORCING RATE

Local Modern Woodmen Are Interested in Order Made by Court in Springfield, Ill.

QUESTION WILL BE FOUGHT OUT

Local Modern Woodmen are interested in a dispatch from Springfield, Ill., which states that a perpetual restraining order has been granted against the head camp of Woodmen to restrain the order from enforcing a new rate, which in some respects is an increase. The local agent, John P. Steteh, says the case will be taken to the higher courts for an opinion. The order binds all camps because Springfield is the home of the Modern Woodmen. The dispatch says:

Holding the new rates adopted by the head camp of the Modern Woodmen at the meeting in Chicago in January, 1912, to be burdensome and unnecessary, Judge Robert Shirley, of the Sangamon circuit court, today granted a perpetual injunction restraining the head camp from putting the rates into effect and also restraining the officers from declaring delinquent any member refusing to pay the new rates. The injunction is effective everywhere, as Illinois is the home of the organization. The petition for an injunction was filed by four members, P. E. Tainter, James M. Brown, James H. Wallace and Frank J. Koch, all of this city, last August.

WHEN IT'S BUILT SIGHS HOPEFUL

Think of Mill, Elevator, Coal Yard Butcher Shop and Things Andersonville Will Get.

AND TWENTY NEW HOUSES, TOO

When the traction line is built next summer Andersonville is going to boom in a way that will be a pleasure to see, says the Andersonville Herald. New Salem is too near Rushville, Metamora too near Brookville and Laurel is not touched at all. This city is a half way place between Indianapolis and Cincinnati, so we may depend on getting the bulk of the benefit. Some of the industries that we are sure to land after the building of the road, are: bank, elevator, mill, coal yard, lumber yard, butcher shop, hardware store, undertaker, twenty new houses, new Masonic hall, more sidewalks, better streets. Let everyone get his shoulder to the wheel and give it a push.

The Knights of Pythias will have work in the third rank Monday night.

I. & C. FORMS AN AUXILIARY CO.

I. & C. Light and Power Company
Incorporated to Furnish Power
And Lights.

TO TOWNS AND INDIVIDUALS

Enter Into Agreement With Morristown Immediately — Adopts Schedule Used by Local Plant.

Coincident with the signing of the agreement last night for the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction Company to furnish electricity for street lights and domestic use in Morristown comes the announcement from Indianapolis that the I. & C. Power Company, organized as an auxiliary to the I. & C. traction properties, has been incorporated.

The nominal capital stock of the auxiliary company is nine hundred dollars. Claude Cambern of this city, one of the directors and legal representative of the traction company, said in Indianapolis that the amount of stock which will be issued ultimately by the new company has not been definitely decided on yet.

The company was organized so that the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction Company could furnish electricity for lights and domestic use to residents of incorporated towns. It was necessary that it should incorporate before it could legally furnish lights to Morristown.

The town board of Morristown last night signed the contract with the I. & C. Light & Power Company for the I. & C. to furnish electricity to residents of that town, as well as for street lights. The deal with Morristown has been pending for some time.

The Indiana Service Company was a competitor for the Morristown contract and was on the job first. But the contract which the I. & C. presented pleased the citizens of Morristown best and it was finally accepted. Several conferences were held between representatives of the I. & C. and Morristown citizens. One night last week the Morristown board met here with I. & C. officials and it was practically agreed then that the I. & C. should have the contract.

Last Monday night at a mass meeting of citizens in Morristown, the acts of the members of the town board were concurred in. Last night at the regular meeting of the town board, so that their steps would be regular, the town board signed the contract and work will be started at once to installing electricity in the homes of Morristown and arranging for lighting the streets.

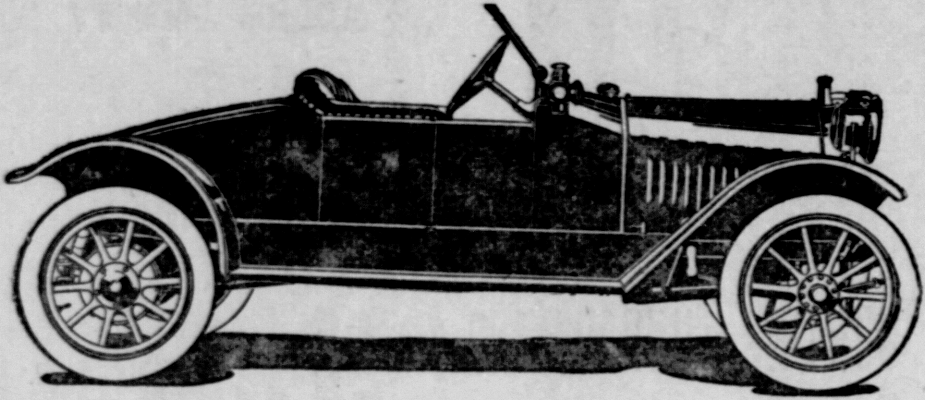

The I. & C. Light and Power Company has adopted the schedule of rates used by the city of Rushville which furnishes electricity for domestic use here. The rate will apply at all points where the new corporation supplies power and light. It will not be able to bid for contracts in corporate for this purpose because the I. & C. lines in this and other counties. For some time the I. & C. has been furnishing electricity in Arlington, but it was unnecessary to incorporate. The I. & C. has been furnishing current to private citizens along the line.

The directors of the new company are the same as those of the traction company. The directors include former Governor Winfield T. Durbin, Charles L. Henry, Theodore F. Wild, George A. Ball, William J. Alford, John J. Appel, John T. Beasley and Mr. Cambern.

A box supper was given by the pupils, assisted by the teacher, Miss Reba Mahan, at No. 1. Rushville township last night.

East Side.

Miss Ione Piper spent the week end with her cousin, Miss Lorene Jackson at Raleigh.

Miss Leale Davison, who is teaching near Orange, spent Sunday with home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ficklin and Mrs. Amanda Brown, of Glenwood, were Sunday guests of Alex. Kinder and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bussell and Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schaefer, of Rushville, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bussell.

Rev. Fred Jacobs of Butler University filled his regular appointment at Ben Davis Creek Sunday and was the guest of John Gray and family.

Mrs. Amanda McCready of Indianapolis, is the guest of her brother, Wm. Baker and family.

We are glad to report that John Brown, of Fairview, has recovered from his recent attack of illness.

Mrs. Millie Johnson has returned to her home at Elnora, after an extended visit with her friend, Mrs. W. S. Saxon.

Miss Naomi Baker celebrated her 14th birthday by entertaining Misses Ione Piper, Ocie Kirkpatrick, Mary Mary Hinchman, Loraine Thompson and Doris Saxon at her home last Monday evening.

Charles Stout of Arlington visited Clarence and Glen Blevin over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wysong of Connersville were Sunday visitors with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rich.

Two children in the family of Mont Richardson and one in that of Chester Bever have the scarlet fever. The schools are again closed at Glenwood.

Mrs. Forrest Brooks has been quite ill with LaGrippe.

Robert Saxon, who has been in poor health for some time, is not improving, as his friends would desire.

Elmer Darnell entertained a number of his Fairview high school pupils at his home last Saturday evening. The popular game of rook was indulged in and dainty refreshments were served at a late hour, the guests at departing voting Elmer an ideal host.

Mrs. Scott Powell was successfully operated on for the removal of a growth in the throat by Dr. Spillman of Connersville, last Tuesday.

Ernest Bunyard is moving from the L. O. Springer farm to a farm near Metamora.

The Parent-Teacher Association held its regular meeting at the high school building last Tuesday evening. The papers on "Public Schools of Indiana," by Mrs. Eva Hinchman, and "Industrial Education," by Miss Lillie Laird, brought out much favorable comment on the introduction of agriculture and domestic science into the regular course of study. Miss Lola Gibbs gave a pleasing vocal solo and Walter Thompson and daughter, Miss Loraine, an instrumental selection of trombone and piano. Miss Edna Trobaugh rendered in a delightful manner the Indian story of "Little Footsteps upon the Water." This story will be dramatized by Miss Trobaugh's pupils at the next meeting, December 17th.

Much of the corn in this vicinity is harvested. Farmers for the most part report it of good yield and quality.

Miss Susan Bussell of Rushville is spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Scott Powell and Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Carr.

Prof. E. R. Jeffrey and wife were Saturday visitors in Connersville.

The Home Mission Rally at the Ben Davis Creek church last Wednesday afternoon was well attended. Many members from the Fairview, Plum Creek, Raleigh, Center and Little Flat congregations were present. Under the leadership of Mrs. J. D. Austin an interesting program was rendered. The social hour which followed gave the people a better opportunity of becoming acquainted, and was an enjoyable feature of the meeting.

A. Mr. Stevens has moved from Indianapolis to the farm vacated by Albert Ficklin and wife, who are now residents of Glenwood.

Few Realize What Good Roads Mean as Money Saver

Those who oppose road improvement and who have been responsible for nothing being done in any of the many parts of the country have no realization either as to what good roads mean in the way of an annual saving to the people of the United States, or as to the durability of good roads.

The total mileage of all the roads in the United States is 2,151,570 miles. Not quite 200,000 or 9 1/10 percent are now improved according to modern methods, leaving more than ninety per cent of mud and dirt highways. Beyond the saving in the way of wagon transportation already reaches over this comparatively small improved portion close to $100,000,000. From this it can be seen that if all roads were put in good condition the annual saving would be about one thousand million dollars. The initial cost of improved highways is only real expense. The upkeep amounts to practically nothing. Take for instance a modern brick road. There is no telling how long it will last, but there are many roads of this character which have been down for twenty years and have grown better as time goes on. Striking examples can be seen of this all over the country and brick manufactured today is of more durability than that which was made two decades back. The same is also true of stone. After a road has been used for a considerable period, if the material chips a little, and it will never chip sufficiently to become rough, it furnishes a firmer footing for horses in snowy and rainy weather and thus the ability to haul heavier loads every time is increased with no added wear upon the vehicle.

Claim is made that the present agitation in favor of good roads was begun by the owners of automobiles. This becomes amusing when the real facts are known. The Apian Way was built three hundred years before the commencement of the christian era. Simpon Pass was built by Napoleon Banaparte and so before either of these roads were constructed there was an agitation for better highways.

Moses led the children of Israel away from Egypt on a paved road and it was paved as substantially as are any of the roads today in the United States. Automobile owners were several thousand years late in starting the agitation in taking people out of the mud.

The present year illustrates the interest which is being taken by the general public in this matter. Something like $150,000,000 have been spent by difference states for wagon road improvement. New York alone made an appropriation of $50,000,000 and California was second in the amount given. Ohio unfortunately defeated a proposition to issue $50,000,000 in bonds as proposed in the Constitution Amendments, but the agitation is going on here and the coming legislation will be asked to make a direct levy for carrying on the work. Requests will undoubtedly be granted.

JEALOUSY CAUSE OF A DOUBLE TRAGEDY

Reno Divorce Colony Treated to a Thriller.

Reno, Nev., Nov. 23.—With a bullet through her abdomen, Mrs. Estelle Baggott of Los Angeles, a beautiful member of the divorce colony, lies in a critical condition at a local hospital and is not expected to live, while the dead body of P. S. Weems, aged thirty-six, of Baltimore, her former admirer and companion, with a bullet hole through his right temple, lies at the undertaker's.

The story is that the couple had finished their bathing and each was dressing in adjoining private rooms opening to the bathing pools. Both were naked when Weems is said to have rushed into the woman's room and fired the shot which was intended to kill, then emptied another barrel into his own head and fell over into the water, dead. That he had meditated the deed is shown by a long letter Weems left which opens with the phrase: "Born in luxury to die of a broken heart by my own hand for a woman!" From this letter it would appear that Weems had had a stormy time with women in the course of a brief life marked by two marriages and one divorce. Following the latter, secured in Buffalo, where, he says, he seriously shot his wife, he went to California. "There," the letter says, "I met Estelle Baggott, who had ruined her husband's life in New York. After living as man and wife and giving her every luxury, she fell in with another man in Los Angeles and left me broken hearted. Then I went back to New York to try to forget, but I could not. I soon returned to see her again, having the old love, and to pay the penalty. If I can only hold out till I see her die, that she cannot ruin another life! I have stolen, taken money on false pretenses, to give those women what they want, and is there no justice?"

WESTERN WOMEN UTTER PROTEST

They Oppose Gotham's Claim to Headquarters.

A WARM SECTIONAL FIGHT

Among Numerous Interesting Points Being Thrashed Out in National Suffragist Convention Is One Relating to the Establishment of Permanent Headquarters in New York, Which Women West of Rockies Oppose.

Philadelphia, Nov. 23.—The suffragists—don't call them suffragettes or there will be a row—have got down to work in the national convention. It's a real convention, too, for there are all sorts of rows. The women don't use such hard words as the men might use, but they are able to call each other falsifiers in the most lady-like manner. "Madam Chairman" is the way Dr. Anna Shaw is addressed. The application of the unit rule came up the first thing to plague the delegates. Underlying the discussion was a sectional fight which bids fair to wax warm and warmer. It developed that the headquarters of the association will no longer remain in New York without a protest of a most vigorous nature from the delegates west of the Rockies. The unit rule was invoked to prevent the passage of amendments to the constitution prohibiting officers of the association from participating in partisan politics, and it was hinted that the rule is expected to have its effect in the election of officers. When the reports had been made and adopted the corresponding secretary read a printed list of proposed amendments to the by-laws and constitution. Among these were three of vital importance. In substance they were that the headquarters should not be permanently located in New York, or anywhere else; that officers, or even members, of the association should not take sides in partisan politics, except in states where the right of suffrage exists, and finally that a secret ballot for officers should be cast, each delegate exercising her individual preference.

It was at this juncture that Miss Harriet May Mills of New York invoked the unit rule in voting. In the constitution of the association there is a clause which permits the unit rule to be effective when five states have so requested. Quietly Miss Mills had circulated among the delegations and gotten what purported to be the support of that number of states. These included California. Delegates were on their feet by the half dozen in protest. The chair ruled that Miss Mills had obtained the requisite number of states. A motion was made to overrule the decision of the chair. It was a viva voce vote and the chair was sustained.

A New York Justice Sends Short Weight Coal Dealer to Jail.

New York, Nov. 23.—For short weight on a wagon of coal, Ehler J. Ernest of Ernest Brothers, was sentenced to twenty days with an addition of thirty days or a $500 fine.

Inspector of Weights Carroll arrested the firm's driver in front of a house where he was tendering a delivery slip for 4,000 pounds. Carroll could only find 3,310 pounds on weighing the wagon.

Ernest had been arrested five times before but never convicted. His lawyer pleaded the ruin of his business and his wife and three little children.

"The wives of other men are to be considered, too," said Justice Russell, "and the poor people exposed to chicanery of this sort at the outset of a hard winter. The court believes the offense merits the utmost severity."

The Tobacco Menace.

The consideration of tobacco and its dangers has heretofore been largely based on the amount of nicotine contained in the smoke. But there are other products of tobacco which must share the responsibility. Among these are carbon monoxide gas, prussic acid, furfural and some others. Although all of these compounds admittedly are poisonous, their danger depends on the quantities in which they are taken. Recently investigations have been made of some of these toxic products, and the result are of considerable interest.

The fact that the action of certain kinds of tobacco has been attributed to the prussic acid in their smoke has induced the Wurzburg hygienist, Prof. K. B. Lehmann, to investigate the charge. He has found that the amount of this compound product depends somewhat on the rate at which the tobacco is smoked. The slower the current of air through a cigar, the smaller is the amount of prussic acid formed. The entire amount found, however, is too small to account for the effects.

So far the burden of the blame for the ill effects of smoking would appear to rest on nicotine. Investigations made by the London Lancet indicate that the ordinary cheap cigar contains the least nicotine in the smoke and the pipe the most, the cigar occupying an intermediate position. Assuming, then, that nicotine is the essentially injurious substance in tobacco, the cigar would appear to be the least harmful form, provided that the amount of tobacco consumed was no greater in this form than in others.

The general impression, however, is that cigaret smoking is the most pernicious form of indulgence in tobacco. This might be accounted for in part by the facts that the form of the cigaret makes it possible for young persons to indulge in it when they would not smoke cigars or pipes, that in older persons it lends itself to overindulgence and that the smoke may be inhaled with less irritation and, therefore, that more of the products may be absorbed into the system.

Further investigations indicate that the most injurious forms of smoking are not those in which prevails but those in which there is a larger proportion of furfural. Furfural is about fifty times as poisonous as ordinary alcohol. There is a probability that the least harmful tobacco will turn out to be that which yields a minimum of furfural in the smoke. Although the amount of nicotine present in the cheaper grades of cigarettes is practically negligible, the amount of furfural appears to be sufficient in itself to account for the bad effects attributed to cigaret-smoking.

The use of tobacco in its various forms is so general that the subject is of almost universal interest. The Journal of the American Medical Association thinks that the smoker is entitled to know the dangers and the safest methods of using tobacco, while educators and all who have anything to do with the young, whether by example or by precept, will appreciate scientific facts with which to back up wise deductions from experience.

SPECIAL

All during this week a special demonstrator direct from the MAJESTIC FACTORY will be glad to show you "ALL ABOUT RANGES" SHOW YOU why the MAJESTIC is the best range on earth at any price.

Come, If You Intend To Buy or Not

EDUCATION lies in KNOWING THINGS—KNOW why the oven of a range is heated—KNOW how the water is heated—HOW the top is heated—WHY the MAJESTIC uses so little fuel—KNOW how a range is made inside and outside. This education may serve you in the future. DON'T OVERLOOK a chance to KNOW THINGS shown by one who knows. COME.

Set of Ware FREE

MAJESTIC RANGES ARE MADE IN ALL SIZES AND STYLES

Which Shall It Be?

Do you intend to continue laboring, burning valuable fuel and destroying high priced food with that old worn out cook stove?

You know that old stove eats up a lot of fuel each year.

You know you have trouble in getting it to bake just right, in fact, spoil a batch of bread every once in a while—you know it costs considerable for yearly repairs.

Stop and think and figure.

Wouldn't it pay you to buy a good range—a range with a reputation—

The Great Majestic and Malleable Charcoal Iron Range.

You make no mistake in buying the GREAT MAJESTIC—it's the range with THE REPUTATION—ask your neighbors. Then, too, it's made just right and of the right kind of material—MALLEABLE and CHARCOAL IRON—riveted together practically air tight—lined with pure asbestos board—parts being malleable can't break—has a moveable reservoir and an oven that don't warp—that's why the MAJESTIC uses so little fuel, bakes just right every day in the year (browns bread just right all over without turning,) heats 15 gal. water while breakfast is cooking—properly handled lasts a lifetime, costs practically nothing for repairs.

Don't buy the range you expect to last a lifetime "unsight unseen;" you'll be sure to be disappointed. Come to our store during [demonstration week, see the GREAT MAJESTIC—have its many exclusive features explained—find out why the MAJESTIC is 300% stronger than other ranges where most ranges are weakest.

DELEGATES FROM EVERY COUNTY

Representatives From All Sections of Indiana Will Attend Good Roads Meeting.

TO SOLVE HIGHWAY PROBLEM

Traffic is Increasing and Wear on Road is Five Times as Great.

Invitations have been received in this city by Mayor Black and others to attend the Indiana Good Roads Convention to be held at Indianapolis on the 11, 12, and 13 of December. Ten delegates will be appointed to attend the convention from this city and county. The convention will be held under the auspices of the Commercial Organizations of Indianapolis, at the German House. This convention is in answer to a call that seems to be nation wide in its scope to provide better roads everywhere, and citizens of Indiana do not want to see the Hoosier state fall behind other sections in the matter of road improvement.

The officials call for the convention states: "The people of our state and nation are tremendously aroused over the question of how to secure better roads, and how properly to conserve and maintain the roads we have. Statistics indicate that the traffic on our highways is at present five times as great as it was five years ago, and is rapidly increasing in volume and destructive power. It also appears that about ninety per cent. of this traffic passes over about twenty per cent. of the roads.

"We realize, therefore, that many of our roads constructed at considerable expense are proving inadequate to resist this destructive traffic and we know that our public officials have no adequate means to maintain these roads, and there are no sufficient laws to provide a remedy."

Therefore, in accordance with the above reasons the convention is called. The convention will be made up as follows: The Governor and Governor-elect of Indiana; Members of Congress from Indiana; members of the Supreme and Appellate Courts; members of the General Assembly; all state officials; all county commissioners and officers; all township trustees; mayors of cities and their boards; presidents and professors of universities and colleges; the state Grange; state Farmer's Congress; all farmers' institutes; all good roads, engineering, and improvement societies; all commercial, trade and civic organizations; representatives of the press.

Papers and addresses by able speakers will be presented covering: The Construction and Maintenance of Highways; Improved Methods of Administration. There will also be a presentation of the proposed law relating to Highway Commission and State Aid, Automobile Taxes and National aid for national highways. The program will not be overloaded with papers, but will leave time for discussion from the floor.

Ample and novel entertainment will be furnished to all visitors. There will be some interesting exhibits of road material and road machinery. The United States Office of Public Roads has consented to send its great exhibit and Purdue University will exhibit its road testing laboratory.

James Therio, Iron River, Mich., says of Foley's Honey and Tar Compound: "This winter both my children and I were troubled with bad coughs. We used Foley's Honey and Tar Compound and it promptly cured us. I recommend it as a good cough and cold cure." Contains no opiates.

IT MAY REVEAL WHITE SLAVERY

Investigation Will be Made in Newcastle Following Arrest of Bertha Lawson of Knightstown.

GIRL IS ONLY 19 YEARS OLD

Says She Was Persuaded to Henry County Seat by Mrs. Maggie Falcon.

Bertha Lawson, the 19-year-old white girl, who was arrested in Newcastle Wednesday night in company with Mrs. Maggie Pressley Falcon, and Ben and Aaron Bailey, colored, was re-arrested Friday at her home in Knightstown by Patrolman Jesse Leakey, who, with Patrolman Harry Slack, made the original arrests, says the Newcastle Courier. A charge of prostitution and intoxication was placed against the girl.

The Lawson girl stated that she was persuaded to come to Newcastle to meet the colored men by the Falcon woman, who has been married several times and is now the wife of an Italian in Greenfield. She swore out a warrant against the woman, charging her with giving liquor to minors. The warrant was placed in the hands of Patrolman Leakey, who went to Greenfield this afternoon to make the arrest.

Charges of a white slave nature may also be lodged against the Falcon woman. The state's officials are of the opinion that she brought the Lawson girl to Newcastle for an immoral purpose.

No charges were filed against the two women after they were arrested here Wednesday night. The men with whom they were arrested gave bond in the sum of $100 for the appearance of all in the police court. The bond was afterwards returned.

MAY SETTLE IT WITH PRIMARIES

didates for postmasterships must be honored by a plurality of the patrons of each office, the choice being determined in a primary.

In widely separated sections of the country an agitation is starting in favor of the primary as the means of settling postoffice contests. This innovation is violently opposed by Democrats of the old school, who believe that "to the victory belong the spoils," and a very fine row promises to be the result.

"Representative Robert L. Henry of Texas, chairman of the rules committee, received a letter from home today saying that the state of Texas is ablaze with sentiment favoring primaries to name postmasters, and asking him for his views. He promptly sent a letter which will be published all over Texas during the next few days opposing primaries and declaring for the present plan of the selection of postmasters through the recommendation of members of congress.

Among the objections he raises to the primary system as applied to postmasters are that there is no way to guard the primaries against fraud and no means of paying the cost of such primaries.

It is pointed out by opponents of primaries that in a community there might be one reactionary Democrat of the Harmon type and half a dozen progressive Democrats who wanted the postoffice. The progressives would divide the progressive vote and the reactionary would be elected.

Representative Cullop of Indiana is the author of the proposed amendment to the constitution of the United States, which will attract a great deal of attention in this connection. It is now pending in the house of representatives awaiting action. It provides that the constitution shall be changed so as to require postmasters to be elected by the qualified electors of the communities they are to serve, regardless of politics."

NOT EDUCATION, ANNIHILATION

every nine teachers in Indiana is a supervisor. Fifteen per cent of the money paid teachers in the State goes to those who supervise."

"Now in regard to the children," he said later. "We believe that in the ordinary city and town the child plays in the street and the alley what time he is not in school. Every child has a playground. It may be around the garbage can or shying bricks at the corner policeman.

"The great problem is to get them out of their customary playgrounds. The average home blames the school for not developing self reliance in the child. The average school blames the home for not sending the child to it in the right condition to learn. So we have a conflict between the home and the school due to the street and alley child.

"Children spend on the average of two and a half hours a day in the school room the year around. The average 21½ hours a day is spent in the streets and alleys. It is not impossible to rear children successfully in town. But if it is, it is high time we were changing conditions. The solution of the problem is to make school appropriate time spent in the streets and alleys. Keep him interested in school work eight hours a day every day in the year."

With a chart Prof. Wirt explained the latest school building erected in Gary. There is four acres in the plot, with a large open park of two acres in front which is utilized by the whole community.

The school is located in the "patch" district, the toughest part of Gary. Back of the building on more than an acre of ground is the playground. It is equipped with all sorts of contrivances for the amusement of children of all ages. There are wading pools, running tracks, arrangements for thirty-two distinct games, foot ball gridirons, baseball diamonds and devices to amuse the girls as well.

In the basement of the building, which is on the level with the earth, swimming pools and work shops are located, together with kindergarten rooms and some class rooms. The gymnasium, the auditorium seating a thousand people and equipped with a large stage and ample scenery, more class rooms and work shops are situated on the main floor. The upper floor is devoted to the running track of the gymnasium, the gallery of the auditorium and class rooms.

Night school is held in the building in which the adults of the community are enrolled. They may take most any kind of work or enjoy most any kind of recreation in the school building at night. There are classes in swimming, physical culture, all sorts of games and other things, taught by competent instructors. The day teachers are allowed to teach in the night school only twice a week and no boy or girl under fourteen years are allowed to be in any of the night classes of any kind. The building is fire proof and it cost on the average of a hundred dollars a child taught in it.

"The class room is the most expensive thing about the building," continued Prof. Wirt. "We have found that it is cheaper to provide land at $75 an acre for them to play on than it is to keep them cooped up in a class room all day. At the same time their health is not impaired.

"If we can run a place in which to study, in which to work in which to play and use all of them at the same time, we can run a school much cheaper than you can. If all the children are on the playground at the same time it is an additional expense because the building is idle. We can reduce the expense fifty per cent. It is cheaper for us then than if we built the cheapest type of building, hired the lowest type of teacher and run school eight months a year"

Prof. Wirt explained that in a given unit sixteen teachers take care of sixteen classes of 40 children each. Eight teach the academic course, three supervisors of the play, one is the principal who assists in the playground work, one teaches nature, one teaches art another teaches music. The children are liberated at the class room door and taken in charge by the playground supervisors. "The schools are open from eight until five. There is a play supervisor on the ground in the morning before school opens, during the noon hour and after school closes for the day.

To illustrate the worth of playgrounds, Prof. Wirt told of an experiment in which a stenographer took all the words uttered in a school room one day. One tabulation of results revealed that the teacher asked questions at the rate of two a minute and that he spoke nine words to the children's one.

He recalled that many adults are disappointed in life because of inefficient training in their youth. He pointed that the Gary plan puts the child's inefficiency squarely before him and he works out his own mistakes and corrects them by the course of study.

"We do not want to make school easy," he continued. "We do not want to sugar-coat the hard problems, but we do want to stiffen the child's back bone; we want him to appreciate what he can do. The problem of the school is to bring the children into a situation where they can do difficult things and enjoy them."

Prof. Wirt told the teachers that two years ago it was decided to leave the schools open on Saturday but not to make it compulsory for the children to attend. Now over half of the pupils enrolled go regularly on Saturday and take their class room and work shop along with their playground classes. He told of the hatred with which many of the children look forward to a vacation.

Prof. Wirt talked to the teachers this afternoon on "The Care of the Child." Just before the noon intermission committees were appointed, and they were to make their report just before adjournment this afternoon. Miss Helen M. Scott sang this afternoon and the Manilla high school orchestra furnished the instrumental music.

"Tells the whole story."

To say that Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is best for children and grown persons and contains no opiates tells only part of the tale. The whole story is that it is the best medicine for coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis and other affections of the throat, chest and lungs. Stops la-grippe coughs and has a healing and soothing effect. # ARTILLERY DUEL BEING KEPT UP

Thunder of Cannon Heard at Constantinople.

A RIFT APPEARS IN THE CLOUD

Present Diplomatic Activities Indicate

That Bulgars Are Preparing to Go to Turkey With Terms For an Armistice Less Harsh Than Those That the Pride of Ottoman Government Recently Was Compelled to Reject.

Vienna, Nov. 23.—For no apparent reason the departure of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, the heir to the throne, for Berlin, to meet the kaiser coincided with a remarkable crop of alarmist rumors. These represent the international situation as again verging on war as a consequence of the Russian mobilization which has led Austria to summon the reserves. Masses of troops are reported assembling in Cracow. Eighty thousand troops are reported to have already concentrated in Bosnia, where all preliminaries for a mobilization are said to be complete.

Mustapha Pasha, Nov. 23.—There was fierce fighting at Adrianople. The Bulgarian besiegers bombarded the Turkish positions furiously. The Turks replied with all their guns and attempted sallies. These were repulsed with much slaughter.

London, Nov. 23.—It is believed that within a very short time Bulgaria will come to Turkey with terms less harsh than those that the Ottoman government rejected, though the fighting continues at the Tchataldja lines.

From Sofia come dispatches telling that Dr. S. Daneff, president of the Bulgarian parliament, General Savoff, victorious commander-in-chief, and General Fitcheff, chief of staff of the army, have been appointed plenipotentiaries for the Bulgars to negotiate an armistice. The appointing of these plenipotentiaries confirms the current belief that there is still hope of the speedy arrangement of an armistice.

In the meantime the fighting is confined to an artillery duel, the thunders of which can be heard in Constantinople. The Bulgars will be reinforced by the arrival of 30,000 Greeks who are marching from their successful western campaign to take their places in front of the Tchataldja lines.

The Greeks are rejoicing over another victory, for Athens hears that the famous island of Mitylene has been captured by eleven fighting ships and four transports. When the Greek ships dropped anchor in the harbor the Turkish governor came aboard the flagship and asked for delay, which was refused. Thereupon the Turkish garrison withdrew inland. The garrison numbers about 700 and is being pursued by the Greeks.

It now appears that in spite of the first dispatches from Servian sources saying that they had captured four Turkish generals at Monastir, none of the generals was captured. The cruiser Hamidieh, which was torpedoed in the Black sea by Bulgarian torpedo boats, was towed to Constantinople stern first. She is down at the head and was damaged so that she cannot be used in this war, at any rate.

POWERS AGREED

There Is Said to Be No Real Danger of a General War.

Buda Pest, Nov. 23.—The pessimism which is rampant in journalistic circles in Vienna, based on wild rumors of mobilization by Austria and Russia, of the murder of an Austrian consul by the Serbs and other imaginary occurrences, is not shared in government circles. On the contrary the situation is considered satisfactory and with perfect reason, for war is inconceivable without belligerents, and Serbia alone cannot wage a campaign against Europe, which is resolved to disallow her exorbitant demands.

Among themselves the great powers are agreed respecting vital questions and will not risk a tremendous conflict for secondary matters. Consequently there is nothing to fear on that score.

The source of apprehension is the assumption that the Russian government is lamentably weak and that pan-Slavism in St. Petersburg and Moscow is redoubtably strong, so strong that the czar's hand may at any moment be forced and a bellicose line of action be struck. Such a consummation is practically eliminated. Russia has but one policy, that of the czar, which is pacifical. The real elements of danger, therefore, are dispelled.

Paid Penalty For Crime.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 23.—James Ellis, formerly a deputy sheriff in Wayne county Kentucky, was put to death in the electric chair in the Eddyville penitentiary for the murder of Magistrate James Beatty in the latter's courtroom at Burnside, Ky. Ellis had been accused of the illegal sale of liquor. With a companion armed Helton he went to Beatty's courtroom and there shot Magistrate Beatty and a constable to death. Helton was sent up for life.

My Daddy-in-Law, John W. (Buck) Tompkins, told a friend, in speaking of me, that the only reason I hadn't paved the streets with GOLD BRICKS from the store to my residence was lack of funds.

CARNEGIE PLAN IN GENERAL DISFAVOR

Proposition Privately to Pension Presidents Pooh-Poohed.

Washington, Nov. 23.—Though Carnegie's plan to give all future ex-presidents of the United States or their widows a pension of $25,000 a year has not been commented on publicly by President Taft, the impression is strong that he will not accept the bounty. The few expressions obtained from senators and representatives indicate that the Carnegie foundation plan has met with almost general disapproval on Capitol hill.

It was very plain, however, that the Carnegie plan is likely to have a wholesome effect in spurring congress on to a duty which it has shirked for many years, and there may be some new pension legislation at the coming session.

President Taft's friends believe that in his case a political question is involved which alone will prevent him from accepting any offer of a Carnegie pension. While the president is said to have no definite political pretensions for 1916, there is a possibility he may again be in the field. The likelihood therefore is that he would not care to subject himself to the possibility of having the Carnegie pension matter lugged into any future campaign.

Furthermore, Mr. Taft's friends are certain that the idea of his accepting Mr. Carnegie's bounty would be distasteful to C. P. Taft, his brother, who is a very wealthy man.

Sidna Allen Convicted.

Wytheville, Va., Nov. 23.—The jury found Sidna Allen, leader of the Carroll county clan that shot up the Hillsville courthouse last March, guilty of the murder of Judge Thornton L. Massie, in the second degree and fixed his punishment at fifteen years in the state prison.

THIS FRIEND WAS FRIEND IN NEED

Rev. S. M. Hawthorne, Arrested Here,
Meets One in Kokomo Who
Goes on Bond.

SAVES HIM A NIGHT IN JAIL

This Friend Takes Former Gwynne-ville Pastor to His Home for Short Sojourn.

The accidental meeting of an old friend was all that saved the Rev. Samuel M. Hawthorne, pastor of the Greentown Christian church and well and favorably known throughout this section of the State, from being a guest of Sheriff Dan Brown at the county bastille, says the Kokomo Tribune.

Rev. Hawthorne was brought to Kokomo from Shelby county Thursday and was arraigned in circuit court on a charge of child desertion. He declared that he was penniless and that he was taken ill while working on a farm in Rush county. When the judge heard the pitiful plea of the aged minister, he appointed the county attorney to take care of the former Greentown pastor.

The judge placed the bond of Hawthorne at $300 and it began to look for a while as if the latter would have to stay in jail after all. However, he went to the office of Blackledge, Wolf & Barnes and happened to meet Henry Rakestraw, a miller at Fairfield and an old acquaintance. Mr. Rakestraw gladly went on the bond and took him to his home in Oakford for a few days sojourn.

The Rev. Hawthorne was arrested by the sheriff of Shelby county on a warrant from the court in Howard county, which had been issued on an affidavit filed by Mrs. Hawthorne, who alleges that her husband has neglected to support their two children, a boy and a girl. The children are now cared for by relatives.

Rev. Hawthorne said that he did not understand what his wife meant by filing the action. He said when he was able to work he supported them, but that when he was taken ill, he was unable to do so.

The pastor says that he has refused a pastorate which would pay $1,000 a year because of the objection of his wife. He has been working this fall husking corn on a farm in Rush county until he took sick at the home of his employer. It was at this place that the sheriff placed him under arrest. He is sixty years of age and is well liked by the Greentown people, who it is said will testify for him at the coming trial.

OPENS OFFICE HERE.

Dr. J. T. Paxton, formerly of Glenwood has opened an office here in the new Logan building in North Main street and will continue the practice of medicine. Dr. H. H. Elliott, his partner while in Glenwood, has retired from active practice.

VISIT ORPHANS HOME.

The board of commissioners accompanied by Sheriff Bebout, went to Spiceland this morning to inspect the orphans' home maintained there by Rush and Henry county. The commissioners returned here about 2 o'clock this afternoon and state that conditions at the home were found very satisfactory.

LEG IS CRUSHED.

Oscar Coons of Red Key, who is employed on the road eight miles north of the city which is being built by Nixon & Pearce, and who was hurt early this week when his leg was crushed between a traction engine and a car load of stone, was able to come to Rushville today. The injury caused him great pain.

The Modern Woodmen will nominate officers for the ensuing year next Thursday night.

LIBERTY LOSES TO LOCALS

Fast Basketball game Goes to Rushville 32 to 8.

The Rushville Independent basketball team won from Liberty last night in an easy manner, 32 to 8. The local team outplayed Liberty with the exception of the first ten minutes of play when the game was comparative close. Rushville displayed some classy team work and the team promises to rank among the best in the state. The Liberty team couldn't locate the baskets and only made one field goal during the entire game and that came near the close of the last half. Six of their eight points were made on free throws. A large crowd was present and the sport promises to be popular here this winter.

C. H. & D. WILL HAVE CHANGE IN TIME

New Schedule Affects Every Train

But Most of Changes Are Only
Slight.

NOTHING DOING ON L. E. & W.

The change of time on the L. E. & W. railroad will not affect the local branch. The new time card was announced yesterday in Newcastle and the hope-for change on the Rushville division did not come. The change in time was much on the Connersville and Ft. Wayne division. The passenger and mail service on the local branch is very poor and the people living in the northern part of the county were hoping for a change.

The C. H. & D. railway announces a change in time effective at midnight tonight. There is no change in the time on the local branch of the Pennsylvania. The new C. H. & D. time table shows many changes but with the exception of one train the changes are not great.

The exception is east bound train No. 33. It will arrive here now at 6:22 p. m. instead of 5:53 p. m. The new time table follows:

East Bound.
No. 35.....	5:31 a. m.
No. 31.....	9:04 a. m.
No. 47.....	11:39 a. m.
No. 37.....	3:46 p. m.
No. 33.....	6:22 p. m.
West Bound.
No. 36.....	1:50 a. m.
No. 32.....	5:31 a. m.
No. 38.....	11:17 a. m.
No. 48.....	5:49 p. m.
No. 42.....	9:50 p. m.

Generally fair tonight and Sunday. Colder tonight, north portion. Colder Sunday.

NOT EDUCATION, ANNIHILATION

Prof. W. A. Wirt of Gary Thus Terms Methods of Keeping Boy in Straight-Jacket.

NOSE IN BOOK 6 HOURS DAILY

Originator of Famous Wirt Plan Explains it at County Teachers Meeting Today.

Up at Gary, the Indiana home of the steel corporation's mills where thousands of foreigners are employed, the children go to school eight hours a day and half of the number enrolled goes on Saturday; up at Gary they spend as much time on the playground if not more than they do in the class room; up at Gary they almost have to drive the school children home to their meals.

The unusual condition of things in the educational world at Gary was explained at the morning session of the Rush County Teachers Association at the Graham school building by Prof. W. A. Wirt, superintendent of the Gary schools and the sole originator of the Wirt plan which has accomplished such desired, but at first unbelievable ends.

"The average boy," said Prof. Wirt, "is a bundle of twist, wiggle and squirm. To put that boy in a straight jacket of a desk with his nose stuck into a book for five or six hours a day is not education; it is annihilation."

"The playground is the first essential for education. We were not hampered by the lack of school buildings in Gary when we had few—and we do not have enough now to accommodate all the children—because we had the first rudiment of a school plant—God's great, free outdoors."

"I now confess that I believe there is some excuse for the manufacture of a school desk. They are needed in the teaching of reading, writing and arithmetic just as is a teacher, blackboard, pointer and books."

Prof. Wirt explained his big idea in teaching children in detail. A fourth of the teachers in Gary schools must be and are able to teach physical training. They must have two years of a good course of this sort before they are employed. A fourth of whom have to be able to teach special work such as gardening, nature study, domestic science and mechanical work. The other half of the teachers must be equipped to teach the rudiments such as spelling, reading, writing and arithmetic.

The class rooms, the work shops and the playgrounds are utilized every minute of the time during the day. A fourth of the children at any given building are on the playground all the time while the other three-fourths are engaged in either study, recitation or in the work shops. The periods are forty-five minutes in length. A period is spent on the playground by one class and another devotes the half to study and half to recitation.

There was a time, said Prof. Wirt, when the teaching of the rudiments of an education were sacrificed for specialists. Now, he declared, they are all specialists in the Gary schools. They are all selected because they want to be experts in their own particular line which they teach. He explained that they have every minute of their time and every ounce of their energy to devote to their subject.

"The effort of the literature teacher," he continued, "is to develop the child's taste for good literature. We have eliminated the bosses by each teacher doing his work as a specialist in his subject. Out of the content on Page 5.

RECOVERS STOLEN BICYCLE

Chief McAllister Finds Wheel Belonging to Frank Muire.

A bicycle stolen from Frank Muire, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Muire of West Seventh street, was found this morning in the rear of the Adams Produce company in South Main street by Chief McAllister. The wheel was taken last night from in front of the Cartmel grocery in Seventh street and this morning two boys were seen taking it to where it was hidden. The wheel was a valuable one and practically new. The police know the youthful robbers having received numerous complaints against them. Arrests will follow and an effort made to send the boys to Plainfield.

PROMISED FREE MEDICAL ADVICE

One Young Man Goes to Some Lengths in Order to Get Magazine Subscription.

SEVEN OF THEM WERE HERE

Further developments in regard to the crowd of young men who solicited magazine subscriptions in this city reveal that one of the young men promised one housewife of Rushville free medical treatment for two years after he was graduated from medical college if she would take his magazine proposition. She took it, but not on the strength of the promise he made.

It is said that there was a crowd of seven young people here at the same time and that they worked in pairs generally. They all used the same story which was in effect that they were young men who were making money to pay their way through college. In most instances they represented that they were local young men and that they were personally acquainted with the young people in the home at which they called, if there chanced to be any.

FOURTEEN PEOPLE WENT TO HAMILTON

They Report That Biedewolf Tabernacle Meetings There Are Progressing Wonderfully.

153 CONVERSIONS LAST NIGHT

Only fourteen people went to Hamilton, Ohio, last night to attend the Biedewolf tabernacle meetings which are in progress there. The crowd was lessened because it was impossible to get back here before two o'clock in the morning and because of the great expense attached. At first it was thought a hundred people could be persuaded to go and thus get a special train but this was impossible.

The people who went report that the meeting is having a wonderful effect in Hamilton. At last night's service while they were there, a hundred and fifty-three people most of them men, went forward. Collections of more than a hundred dollars are being taken every night, the local people say.

The P. O. S. of A. lodge will have work Monday night and desire a large attendance.

MAY SETTLE IT WITH PRIMARIES

Gov. Wilson May Require Settlement of Postmasterships by The Voters.

AGAINST PATRONAGE PLAN

There Are Many Candidates Here But One Man Says he Wants Nothing.

With a number of candidates in the field for the post office appointment, it is very problematical as to just what the result will be. Samuel H. Trabue, Sr., father of Samuel L. Trabue, Democratic chairman, has authorized his son to announce that he is not a candidate for the postmastership.

"The Trabue family wants nothing," said the county chairman the other day, "and it is asking for nothing. But it is known that there are a number of avowed candidates in the field. Many have been mentioned in these columns, and it is likely that even more Democrats who have been working all these years to get in power believe that they are entitled to some of the pie."

More and more the sentiment in favor of settling postmasterships by primary elections spreads. It bids fair to become country-wide. The spoilsmen of the Democratic party—the men who want everything settled by a "pull" and without regard to the wishes of the people—are trying to build a back-fire against the primary movement, but the indications are that their effort will be fruitless.

The primary plan to relieve the situation was tried here once before—1893—when the Democrats came into power and there was a host of candidates for the job. There were fourteen Democrats who wanted to be postmaster, and in the election, in which only Democratic patrons of the post office voted, Will Meredith was elected by a good plurality.

Only eleven of the candidates entered into the agreement, the other three refusing. John A. Spurrier, Douglas Morris, now judge of the Indiana appellate court, and Dan Vorhau would not consent to the plan. The contesting candidates bore the expense equally and the election was held in the court house under the Australian ballot system. A Washington, D. C., dispatch has the following to say on the subject:

A storm is brewing in the Democratic party over the suggestion that the primary system be adapted to the selection of postmasters under the Wilson administration. The report has become widely circulated that President-elect Wilson, who is a stickler for primaries and an opponent of the spoils system, favors the selection of presidential postmasters by primaries in which the voters shall be the Democratic patrons of each office.

Nobody in authority to speak for the president-elect pretends to know exactly what his views are as to the manner in which these offices shall be filled, but he is one of the vice presidents of the National Civic Service Reform League and in a speech at New Haven last spring he said that it was patronage that kept the political machines alive and that the way to starve out the machines was to take away their patronage.

As president he would have the power to put the primary system into general effect in the selection of postmasters. It is only a custom which imposes upon him the duty of honoring recommendations for postmasters made by members of congress. He can abolish that custom in the twinkling of an eye and substitute for it the requirement that candidates for the postmastership must be nominated by the voters.

COMMITTEE HAS $244.98 BALANCE

Report of Bert Mullin, Treasurer, Shows Republicans Spent $910.02 in Late Campaign.

CONTRIBUTIONS WERE $1155

Period Covered by Report Extends to Time Before Nominating Convention in March.

The report of Bert Mullin, treasurer of the county Republican central committee, which was filed with the clerk of the circuit court today in compliance with a clause of the corrupt practices act, shows that the committee spent from March 30, 1912 to the close of the recent political campaign $910.02 and received voluntary subscriptions amounting to $1155, which leaves on hands a balance of $244.98.

The report shows careful work and a clarity that is desired in such documents. All the expenses are carefully itemized and typewritten, revealing a lot of industry and care on the part of the treasurer of the committee.

The report covers the period from time when contributions were made to the committee for the county Republican nominating convention to the close of the campaign. It covers all the expenses of the nominating convention as well as those of the campaign proper.

There are seventy items of expenditures but the number of contributions is not so large. The largest individual contribution made was $125. One of this size was made by Fred Beale, candidate for county treasurer, and by J. K. Jamieson, candidate for county sheriff.

The largest individual contribution made by any man other than a candidate was $100. There was only one of these, and it was made by Thomas K. Mull of Manilla. The bulk of the contributions were made by Republican candidates, candidates before the nominating convention as well as those who were nominated and sought to be elected.

The expenditures were for the usual campaign expenses such as for bands, Coliseum rent, postage, advertising, printing, stenographers, rent of headquarters, making poll books, poll book holders and other things incident to a campaign.

One of the big items was eighty dollars spent for postage. Another was seventy dollars paid to George Helm for his service. He was drafted as an assistant secretary who prepared all the poll books and made a list of the Republicans in Rush county who had registered. He did other clerical work about headquarters.

Fifty-three dollars had to be expended for the Coliseum the two times it was used and forty dollars in rent alone was paid for the tabernacle for the Watson meeting. Then there was a heavy expense of advertising the Watson meeting by sending automobiles to every town in this county as well as to surrounding counties and cities with printed matter.

There was a good sum of money paid out for bands at the Republican meetings here and for the Shelbyville excursion. The expense of printing of committee stationary and bills for each of the meetings here and at other points in the country was all borne by the central committee. Thirty dollars was paid in rent for headquarters.

SERVICES CALLED OFF.

There will be no services in any of the Methodist churches for the next two Sundays because of the storm.

IS HUNTING UNPOPULAR?

Licenses Are Not Selling as Fast as in Past Years.

Either fewer Rush county men are hunting this fall or else they are violating the law by hunting without a license because very few licenses have been sold by the clerk of the circuit court as compared with recent years. Up to date only ninety licenses have been disposed. During November last year more than two hundred were sold and in the same month two years ago three hundred were sold.

RESTRAINED FROM ENFORCING RATE

Local Modern Woodmen Are Interested in Order Made by Court in Springfield, Ill.

QUESTION WILL BE FOUGHT OUT

Local Modern Woodmen are interested in a dispatch from Springfield, Ill., which states that a perpetual restraining order has been granted against the head camp of Woodmen to restrain the order from enforcing a new rate, which in some respects is an increase. The local agent, John P. Stetch, says the case will be taken to the higher courts for an opinion. The order binds all camps because Springfield is the home of the Modern Woodmen. The dispatch says:

Holding the new rates adopted by the head camp of the Modern Woodmen at the meeting in Chicago in January, 1912, to be burdensome and unnecessary, Judge Robert Shirley, of the Sangamon circuit court, today granted a perpetual injunction restraining the head camp from putting the rates into effect and also restraining the officers from declaring delinquent any member refusing to pay the new rates. The injunction is effective everywhere, as Illinois is the home of the organization. The petition for an injunction was filed by four members, P. E. Tainter, James M. Brown, James H. Wallace and Frank J. Koch, all of this city, last August.

WHEN IT'S BUILT SIGNS HOPEFUL

Think of Mill, Elevator, Coal Yard Butcher Shop and Things Andersonville Will Get.

AND TWENTY NEW HOUSES, TOO

When the traction line is built next summer Andersonville is going to boom in a way that will be a pleasure to see, says the Andersonville Herald. New Salem is too near Rushville, Metamora too near Rushville and Laurel is not touched at all. This city is a half way place between Indianapolis and Cincinnati, so we may depend on getting the bulk of the benefit. Some of the industries that we are sure to land after the building of the road, are: bank, elevator, mill, coal yard, lumber yard, butcher shop, hardware store, undertaker, twenty new houses, new Masonic hall, more sidewalks, better streets. Let everyone get his shoulder to the wheel and give it a push.

The Knights of Pythias will have work in the third week Monday night.

I. & C. FORMS AN AUXILIARY CO.

I. & C. Light and Power Company Incorporated to Furnish Power And Lights.

TO TOWNS AND INDIVIDUALS

Enter Into Agreement With Morristown Immediately — Adopts Schedule Used by Local Plant.

Coincident with the signing of the agreement last night for the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction Company to furnish electricity for street lights and domestic use in Morristown comes the announcement from Indianapolis that the I. & C. Power Company, organized as an auxiliary to the I. & C. traction properties, has been incorporated.

The nominal capital stock of the auxiliary company is nine hundred dollars. Claude Cambern of this city, one of the directors and legal representative of the traction company, said in Indianapolis that the amount of stock which will be issued ultimately by the new company has not been definitely decided on yet.

The company was organized so that the Indianapolis and Cincinnati Traction Company could furnish electricity for lights and domestic use to residents of incorporated towns. It was necessary that it should incorporate before it could legally furnish lights to Morristown.

The town board of Morristown last night signed the contract with the I. & C. Light & Power Company for the I. & C. to furnish electricity to residents of that town, as well as for street lights. The deal with Morristown has been pending for some time.

The Indiana Service Company was a competitor for the Morristown contract and was on the job first. But the contract which the I. & C. presented pleased the citizens of Morristown best and it was finally accepted. Several conferences were held between representatives of the I. & C. and Morristown citizens. One night last week the Morristown board met here with I. & C. officials and it was practically agreed then that the I. & C. should have the contract.

Last Monday night at a mass meeting of citizens in Morristown, the acts of the members of the town board were concurred in. Last night at the regular meeting of the town board, so that their steps would be regular, the town board signed the contract and work will be started at once to installing electricity in the homes of Morristown and arranging for lighting the streets.

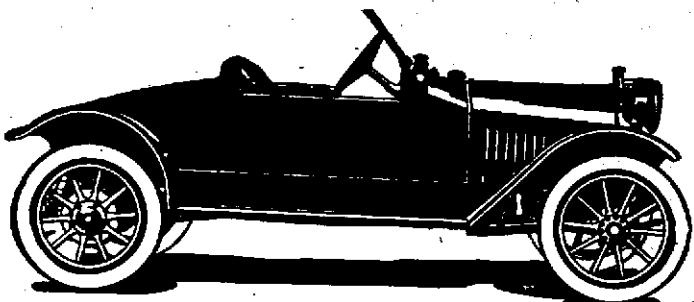

The I. & C. Light and Power Company has adopted the schedule of rates used by the city of Rushville which furnishes electricity for domestic use here. The rate will apply at all points where the new corporation supplies power and light. It will not be able to bid for contracts in corporate for this purpose because the I. & C. lines in this and other counties. For some time the I. & C. has been furnishing electricity in Arlington, but it was unnecessary to incorporate. The I. & C. has been furnishing current to private citizens along the line.

The directors of the new company are the same as those of the traction company. The directors include former Governor Winfield T. Durbin, Charles L. Henry, Theodore F. Wild, George A. Ball, William J. Alford, John J. Appel, John T. Bessey and Mr. Cambern.

A box supper was given by the pupils, assisted by the teacher, Miss Rosa Mahan, at No. 1. Teachers' meeting last night.

East Side.

Miss Ione Piper spent the week end with her cousin, Miss Lorene Jackson at Raleigh.

Miss Leale Davison, who is teaching near Orange, spent Sunday with home folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Ficklin and Mrs. Amanda Brown, of Glenwood, were Sunday guests of Alex. Kinder and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bussell and Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Schaefer, of Rushville, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Guy Bussell.

Rev. Fred Jacobs of Butler University filled his regular appointment at Ben Davis Creek Sunday and was the guest of John Gray and family.

Mrs. Amanda McCready of Indianapolis, is the guest of her brother, Wm. Baker and family.

We are glad to report that John Brown, of Fairview, has recovered from his recent attack of illness.

Mrs. Millie Johnson has returned to her home at Elora, after an extended visit with her friend, Mrs. W. S. Saxon.

Miss Naomi Baker celebrated her 14th birthday by entertaining Misses Ione Piper, Ocie Kirkpatrick, Mary Mary Hinchman, Loraine Thompson and Doris Saxon at her home last Monday evening.

Charles Stout of Arlington visited Clarence and Glen Blevin over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wyson of Connersville were Sunday visitors with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rich.

Two children in the family of Mont Richardson and one in that of Chester Bever have the scarlet fever. The schools are again closed at Glenwood.

Mrs. Forrest Brooks has been quite ill with LaGrippe.

Robert Saxon, who has been in poor health for some time, is not improving, as his friends would desire.

Elmer Darnell entertained a number of his Fairview high school pupils at his home last Saturday evening. The popular game of rook was indulged in and dainty refreshments were served at a late hour, the guests at departing voting Elmer an ideal host.

Mrs. Scott Powell was successfully operated on for the removal of a growth in the throat by Dr. Spillman of Connersville, last Tuesday.

Ernest Bunyard is moving from the L. O. Springer farm to a farm near Metamora.

The Parent-Teacher Association held its regular meeting at the high school building last Tuesday evening. The papers on "Public Schools of Indiana," by Mrs. Eva Hinchman, and "Industrial Education," by Miss Lillie Laird, brought out much favorable comment on the introduction of agriculture and domestic science into the regular course of study. Miss Lola Gibbs gave a pleasing vocal solo and Walter Thompson and daughter, Miss Loraine, an instrumental selection of trombone and piano. Miss Edna Trobaugh rendered in a delightful manner the Indian story of "Little Footsteps upon the Water." This story will be dramatized by Miss Trobaugh's pupils at the next meeting, December 17th.

Much of the corn in this vicinity is harvested. Farmers for the most part report it of good yield and quality.

Miss Susan Bussell of Rushville is spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. Scott Powell and Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Carr.

Prof. E. R. Jeffrey and wife were Saturday visitors in Connersville.

The Home Mission Rally at the Ben Davis Creek church last Wednesday afternoon was well attended. Many members from the Fairview, Plum Creek, Raleigh, Center and Little Flat congregations were present. Under the leadership of Mrs. J. D. Austin an interesting program was rendered. The social hour which followed gave the people a better opportunity of becoming acquainted, and was an enjoyable feature of the meeting.

A. Mr. Stevens has moved from Indianapolis to the farm vacated by Albert Ficklin and wife, who are now residents of Glenwood.

Few Realize What Good Roads Mean as Money Saver

Those who oppose road improvement and who have been responsible for nothing being done in any of the many parts of the country have no realization either as to what good roads mean in the way of an annual saving to the people of the United States, or as to the durability of good roads.

The total mileage of all the roads in the United States is 2,151,570 miles. Not quite 200,000 or 9 1/10 percent are now improved according to modern methods, leaving more than ninety per cent of mud and dirt highways. Beyond the saving in the way of wagon transportation already reaches over this comparatively small improved portion close to $100,000,000. From this it can be seen that if all roads were put in good condition the annual saving would be about one thousand million dollars. The initial cost of improved highways is only real expense. The upkeep amounts to practically nothing. Take for instance a modern brick road. There is no telling how long it will last, but there are many roads of this character which have been down for twenty years and have grown better as time goes on. Striking examples can be seen of this all over the country and brick manufactured today is of more durability than that which was made two decades back. The same is also true of stone. After a road has been used for a considerable period, if the material chips a little, and it will never chip sufficiently to become rough, it furnishes a firmer footing for horses in snowy and rainy weather and thus the ability to haul heavier loads every time is increased with no added wear upon the vehicle.

Claim is made that the present agitation in favor of good roads was begun by the owners of automobiles. This becomes amusing when the real facts are known. The Apian Way was built three hundred years before the commencement of the christian era. Simphon Pass was built by Napoleon Bonaparte and so before either of these roads were constructed there was an agitation for better highways.

Moses led the children of Israel away from Egypt on a paved road and it was paved as substantially as are any of the roads today in the United States. Automobile owners were several thousand years late in starting the agitation in taking people out of the mud.

The present year illustrates the interest which is being taken by the general public in this matter. Something like $150,000,000 have been spent by difference states for wagon road improvement. New York alone made an appropriation of $50,000,000 and California was second in the amount given. Ohio unfortunately defeated a proposition to issue $50,000,000 in bonds as proposed in the Constitution Amendments, but the agitation is going on here and the coming legislation will be asked to make a direct levy for carrying on the work. Requests will undoubtedly be granted.

JEALOUSY CAUSE OF A DOUBLE TRAGEDY

Reno Divorce Colony Treated to a Thriller.

Reno, Nev., Nov. 23.—With a bullet through her abdomen, Mrs. Estelle Baggett of Los Angeles, a beautiful member of the divorce colony, lies in a critical condition at a local hospital and is not expected to live, while the dead body of P. S. Weems, aged thirty-six, of Baltimore, her former admirer and companion, with a bullet hole through his right temple, lies at the undertaker's.

The story is that the couple had finished their bathing and each was dressing in adjoining private rooms opening to the bathing pools. Both were naked when Weems is said to have rushed into the woman's room and fired the shot which was intended to kill, then emptied another barrel into his own head and fell over into the water, dead. That he had meditated the deed is shown by a long letter Weems left which opens with the phrase: "Born in luxury to die of a broken heart by my own hand for a woman!" From this letter it would appear that Weems had had a stormy time with women in the course of a brief life marked by two marriages and one divorce. Following the latter, secured in Buffalo, where, he says, he seriously shot his wife, he went to California. "There," the letter says, "I met Estelle Baggett, who had ruined her husband's life in New York. After living as man and wife and giving her every luxury, she fell in with another man in Los Angeles and left me broken hearted. Then I went back to New York to try to forget, but I could not. I soon returned to see her again, having the old love, and to pay the penalty. If I can only hold out till I see her die, that she cannot ruin another life! I have stolen, taken money on false pretenses, to give those women what they want, and is there no justice?"

WESTERN WOMEN UTTER PROTEST

They Oppose Gotham's Claim to Headquarters.

A WARM SECTIONAL FIGHT

Among Numerous Interesting Points Being Thashed Out in National Suffragist Convention Is One Relating to the Establishment of Permanent Headquarters in New York, Which Women West of Rockies Oppose.

Philadelphia, Nov. 23.—The suffragists—don't call them suffragettes or there will be a row—have got down to work in the national convention. It's a real convention, too, for there are all sorts of rows. The women don't use such hard words as the men might use, but they are able to call each other falsifiers in the most lady-like manner. "Madam Chairman" is the way Dr. Anna Shaw is addressed. The application of the unit rule came up the first thing to plague the delegates. Underlying the discussion was a sectional fight which bids fair to wax warm and warmer. It developed that the headquarters of the association will no longer remain in New York without a protest of a most vigorous nature from the delegates west of the Rockies. The unit rule was invoked to prevent the passage of amendments to the constitution prohibiting officers of the association from participating in partisan politics, and it was hinted that the rule is expected to have its effect in the election of officers. When the reports had been made and adopted the corresponding secretary read a printed list of proposed amendments to the by-laws and constitution. Among these were three of vital importance. In substance they were that the headquarters should not be permanently located in New York, or anywhere else; that officers, or even members, of the association should not take sides in partisan politics, except in states where the right of suffrage exists, and finally that a secret ballot for officers should be cast, each delegate exercising her individual preference.

It was at this juncture that Miss Harriet May Mills of New York invoked the unit rule in voting. In the constitution of the association there is a clause which permits the unit rule to be effective when five states have so requested. Quietly Miss Mills had circulated among the delegations and gotten what purported to be the support of that number of states. These included California. Delegates were on their feet by the half dozen in protest. The chair ruled that Miss Mills had obtained the requisite number of states. A motion was made to overrule the decision of the chair. It was a viva voce vote and the chair was sustained.

THREE CHEERS!

A New York Justice Sends Short Weight Coal Dealer to Jail.

New York, Nov. 23.—For short weight on a wagon of coal, Ehler J. Ernest of Ernest Brothers, was sentenced to twenty days with an addition of thirty days or a $500 fine.

Inspector of Weights Carroll arrested the firm's driver in front of a house where he was tendering a delivery slip for 4,000 pounds. Carroll could only find 3,310 pounds on weighing the wagon.

Ernest had been arrested five times before but never convicted. His lawyer pleaded the ruin of his business and his wife and three little children.

"The wives of other men are to be considered, too," said Justice Russell, "and the poor people exposed to chicanery of this sort at the outset of a hard winter. The court believes the offense merits the utmost severity."

WILSON INDIGNANT

Camera Fiend Found President Elect Willing to Back His Words.

Hamilton, Nov. 23.—A photographer tried to take a snapshot of Governor Wilson while the latter was talking to the reporters and after he had refused to have his picture taken. The governor became angry and called the camera man down, saying: "I will undertake to thrash you, sir, if you want a thrashing. You are no gentleman."

The photographer apologized to the president elect later on and was forgiven.

Went to the Grave For Evidence.

Springfield, O., Nov. 23.—An indictment has been returned by a special grand jury against Dr. Arthur B. Smith, charging him with first degree murder in the killing of his first wife by poisoning. Smith was put in jail. The indictment was based on evidence secured by exhuming the body of Mrs. Smith.

Fell in Front of Buzz Saw.

Lincoln City, Ind., Nov. 23.—John Harris, a well-known farmer, living near here, while operating a small saw mill on his farm, fell in front of a buzz saw and was killed instantly. His body was cut in two. He is survived by a family.

The Tobacco Menace.

The consideration of tobacco and its dangers has heretofore been largely based on the amount of nicotine contained in the smoke. But there are other products of tobacco which must share the responsibility. Among these are carbon monoxide gas, prussic acid, furfural and some others. Although all of these compounds admittedly are poisonous, their danger depends on the quantities in which they are taken. Recently investigations have been made of some of these toxic products, and the result are of considerable interest.

The fact that the action of certain kinds of tobacco has been attributed to the prussic acid in their smoke has induced the Wurzberg hygienist, Prof. K. B. Lehmann, to investigate the charge. He has found that the amount of this compound product depends somewhat on the rate at which the tobacco is smoked. The slower the current of air through a cigar, the smaller is the amount of prussic acid formed. The entire amount found, however, is too small to account for the effects.

So far the burden of the blame for the ill effects of smoking would appear to rest on nicotine. Investigations made by the London Lancet indicate that the ordinary cheap cigar contains the least nicotine in the smoke and the pipe the most, the cigar occupying an intermediate position. Assuming, then, that nicotine is the essentially injurious substance in tobacco, the cigar would appear to be the least harmful form, provided that the amount of tobacco consumed was no greater in this form than in others.

The general impression, however, is that cigaret smoking is the most pernicious form of indulgence in tobacco. This might be accounted for in part by the facts that the form of the cigaret makes it possible for young persons to indulge in it when they would not smoke cigars or pipes, that in older persons it lends itself to overindulgence and that the smoke may be inhaled with less irritation and, therefore, that more of the products may be absorbed into the system.

Further investigations indicate that the most injurious forms of smoking are not those in which prevails but those in which there is a larger proportion of furfural. Furfural is about fifty times as poisonous as ordinary alcohol. There is a probability that the least harmful tobacco will turn out to be that which yields a minimum of furfural in the smoke. Although the amount of nicotine present in the cheaper grades of cigarettes is practically negligible, the amount of furfural appears to be sufficient in itself to account for the bad effects attributed to cigaret-smoking.

The use of tobacco in its various forms is so general that the subject is of almost universal interest. The Journal of the American Medical Association thinks that the smoker is entitled to know the dangers and the safest methods of using tobacco, while educators and all who have anything to do with the young, whether by example or by precept, will appreciate scientific facts with which to back up wise deductions from experience.

And Sale of Great Majestic Ranges

ONE WEEK ONLY

November 25th to 30th

ONE WEEK ONLY

SAVE $8.00

As a special inducement during our demonstration week only, with every MAJESTIC RANGE sold (prices always the same) we will give free one handsome set of ware as illustrated here.

Every piece of this ware is the best of its kind. Not a piece that is not needed in every kitchen. It cannot possibly be bought for less than $8.00. This ware is on exhibition at our store. DON'T FAIL TO SEE IT.

SPECIAL

All during this week a special demonstrator direct from the MAJESTIC FACTORY will be glad to show you "ALL ABOUT RANGES" SHOW YOU why the MAJESTIC is the best range on earth at any price.

Come, If You Intend To Buy or Not

EDUCATION lies in KNOWING THINGS—KNOW why the oven of a range is heated—KNOW how the water is heated—HOW the top is heated—WHY the MAJESTIC uses so little fuel—KNOW how a range is made inside and outside. This education may serve you in the future. DON'T OVERLOOK a chance to KNOW THINGS shown by one who knows. COME.

Set of Ware FREE

MAJESTIC RANGES ARE MADE IN ALL SIZES AND STYLES

MAJESTIC NEVER-BURN COOKER
STEAMER-CULLENDER AND DRAINER
HEAVY STAMPED IRON-MARBLEIZED
KETTLE—18 OZ. ALL COPPER TEA-KETTLE
14 OZ. ALL COPPER COFFEE-POT

1-LARGE NEVER-BURN WIRED-DIPPING PAN
2-SMALL NEVER-BURN WIRED-DIPPING PANS
2-SMALL DRIP PANS
CAN ALSO BE USED AS ROASTER

Which Shall It Be?

Do you intend to continue laboring, burning valuable fuel and destroying high priced food with that old worn out cook stove?

You know that old stove eats up a lot of fuel each year.

You know you have trouble in getting it to bake just right, in fact, spoil a batch of bread every once in a while—you know it costs considerable for yearly repairs.

Stop and think and figure.

Wouldn't it pay you to buy a good range—a range with a reputation—

The Great Majestic and Malleable Charcoal Iron Range.

You make no mistake in buying the GREAT MAJESTIC—it's the range with THE REPUTATION—ask your neighbors. Then, too, it's made just right and of the right kind of material—MALLEABLE and CHARCOAL IRON—riveted together practically air tight—lined with pure asbestos board—parts being malleable can't break—has a moveable reservoir and an oven that don't warp—that's why the MAJESTIC uses so little fuel, bakes just right every day in the year (browns bread just right all over without turning,) heats 15 gal. water while breakfast is cooking—properly handled lasts a lifetime, costs practically nothing for repairs.

Don't buy the range you expect to last a lifetime "unsight unseen;" you'll be sure to be disappointed. Come to our store during demonstration week, see the GREAT MAJESTIC—have its many exclusive features explained—find out why the MAJESTIC is 300% stronger than other ranges where most ranges are weakest.

DELEGATES FROM EVERY COUNTY IT MAY REVEAL WHITE SLAVERY

Representatives From All Sections of Indiana Will Attend Good Roads Meeting.

TO SOLVE HIGHWAY PROBLEM

Traffic is Increasing and Wear on Road is Five Times as Great.

Invitations have been received in this city by Mayor Black and others to attend the Indiana Good Roads Convention to be held at Indianapolis on the 11, 12, and 13 of December. Ten delegates will be appointed to attend the convention from this city and county. The convention will be held under the auspices of the Commercial Organizations of Indianapolis, at the German House. This convention is in answer to a call that seems to be nation wide in its scope to provide better roads everywhere, and citizens of Indiana do not want to see the Hoosier state fall behind other sections in the matter of road improvement.

The officials call for the convention states: "The people of our state and nation are tremendously aroused over the question of how to secure better roads, and how properly to conserve and maintain the roads we have. Statistics indicate that the traffic on our highways is at present five times as great as it was five years ago, and is rapidly increasing in volume and destructive power. It also appears that about ninety per cent. of this traffic passes over about twenty per cent. of the roads.

"We realize, therefore, that many of our roads constructed at considerable expense are proving inadequate to resist this destructive traffic and we know that our public officials have no adequate means to maintain these roads, and there are no sufficient laws to provide a remedy."

Therefore, in accordance with the above reasons the convention is called. The convention will be made up as follows: The Governor and Governor-elect of Indiana; Members of Congress from Indiana; members of the Supreme and Appellate Courts; members of the General Assembly; all state officials; all county commissioners and officers; all township trustees; mayors of cities and their boards; presidents and professors of universities and colleges; the state Grange; state Farmer's Congress; all farmers' institutes; all good roads, engineering, and improvement societies; all commercial, trade and civic organizations; representatives of the press.

Papers and addresses by able speakers will be presented covering: The Construction and Maintenance of Highways; Improved Methods of Administration. There will also be a presentation of the proposed law relating to Highway Commission and State Aid, Automobile Taxes and National aid for national highways. The program will not be overloaded with papers, but will leave time for discussion from the floor.

Ample and novel entertainment will be furnished to all visitors. There will be some interesting exhibits of road material and road machinery. The United States Office of Public Roads has consented to send its great exhibit and Purdue University will exhibit its road testing laboratory.

JOE LAKIN, Manager.

Investigation Will be Made in Newcastle Following Arrest of Bertha Lawson of Knightstown.

GIRL IS ONLY 19 YEARS OLD

Says She Was Persuaded to Henry County Seat by Mrs. Maggie Falcon.

Bertha Lawson, the 19-year-old white girl, who was arrested in Newcastle Wednesday night in company with Mrs. Maggie Pressley Falcon, and Ben and Aaron Bailey, colored, was re-arrested Friday at her home in Knightstown by Patrolman Jesse Leakey, who, with Patrolman Harry Slack, made the original arrests, says the Newcastle Courier. A charge of prostitution and intoxication was placed against the girl.

The Lawson girl stated that she was persuaded to come to Newcastle to meet the colored men by the Falcon woman, who has been married several times and is now the wife of an Italian in Greenfield. She swore out a warrant against the woman, charging her with giving liquor to minors. The warrant was placed in the hands of Patrolman Leakey, who went to Greenfield this afternoon to make the arrest.

Charges of a white slave nature may also be lodged against the Falcon woman. The state's officials are of the opinion that she brought the Lawson girl to Newcastle for an immoral purpose.

No charges were filed against the two women after they were arrested here Wednesday night. The men with whom they were arrested gave bond in the sum of $100 for the appearance of all in the police court. The bond was afterwards returned.

MAY SETTLE IT WITH PRIMARIES

didates for postmasterships must be honored by a plurality of the patrons of each office, the choice being determined in a primary.

In widely separated sections of the country an agitation is starting in favor of the primary as the means of settling postoffice contests. This innovation is violently opposed by Democrats of the old school, who believe that "to the victory belong the spoils," and a very fine row promises to be the result.

Representative Robert L. Henry of Texas, chairman of the rules committee, received a letter from home today saying that the state of Texas is ablaze with sentiment favoring primaries to name postmasters, and asking him for his views. He promptly sent a letter which will be published all over Texas during the next few days opposing primaries and declaring for the present plan of the selection of postmasters through the recommendation of members of congress.

Among the objections he raises to the primary system as applied to postmasters are that there is no way to guard the primaries against fraud and no means of paying the cost of such primaries.

It is pointed out by opponents of primaries that in a community there might be one reactionary Democrat of the Harmon type and half a dozen progressive Democrats who wanted the postoffice. The progressives would divide the progressive vote and the reactionary would be elected.

Representative Cullop of Indiana is the author of the proposed amendment to the constitution of the United States, which will attract a great deal of attention in this connection. It is now pending in the house of representatives awaiting action. It provides that the constitution shall be changed so as to require postmasters to be elected by the qualified electors of the communities they are to serve, regardless of politics."

NOT EDUCATION, ANNIHILATION

every nine teachers in Indiana is a supervisor. Fifteen per cent of the money paid teachers in the State goes to those who supervise."

"Now in regard to the children," he said later. "We believe that in the ordinary city and town the child plays in the street and the alley what time he is not in school. Every child has a playground. It may be around the garbage can or shying bricks at the corner policeman.

"The great problem is to get them out of their customary playgrounds. The average home blames the school for not developing self reliance in the child. The average school blames the home for not sending the child to it in the right condition to learn. So we have a conflict between the home and the school due to the street and alley child.

"Children spend on the average of two and a half hours a day in the school room the year around. The average 21½ hours a day is spent in the streets and alleys. It is not impossible to rear children successfully in town. But if it is, it is high time we were changing conditions. The solution of the problem is to make school appropriate time spent in the streets and alleys. Keep him interested in school work eight hours a day every day in the year."

With a chart Prof. Wirt explained the latest school building erected in Gary. There is four acres in the plot, with a large open park of two acres in front which is utilized by the whole community.

The school is located in the "patch" district, the toughest part of Gary. Back of the building on more than an acre of ground is the playground. It is equipped with all sorts of contrivances for the amusement of children of all ages. There are wading pools, running tracks, arrangements for thirty-two distinct games, foot ball gridirons, baseball diamonds and devices to amuse the girls as well.

In the basement of the building, which is on the level with the earth, swimming pools and work shops are located, together with kindergarten rooms and some class rooms. The gymnasium, the auditorium seating a thousand people and equipped with a large stage and ample scenery, more class rooms and work shops are situated on the main floor. The upper floor is devoted to the running track of the gymnasium, the gallery of the auditorium and class rooms.

Night school is held in the building in which the adults of the community are enrolled. They may take most any kind of work or enjoy most any kind of recreation in the school building at night. There are classes in swimming, physical culture, all sorts of games and other things, taught by competent instructors. The day teachers are allowed to teach in the night school only twice a week and no boy or girl under fourteen years are allowed to be in any of the night classes of any kind. The building is fire proof and it cost on the average of a hundred dollars a child taught in it.

"The class room is the most expensive thing about the building," continued Prof. Wirt. "We have found that it is cheaper to provide land at $75 an acre for them to play on than it is to keep them cooped up in a class room all day. At the same time their health is not impaired.

"If we can run a place in which to study, in which to work in which to play and use all of them at the same time, we can run a school much cheaper than you can. If all the children are on the playground at the same time it is an additional expense because the building is idle. We can reduce the expense fifty per cent. It is cheaper for us than than if we built the cheapest type of building, hired the lowest type of teacher and run school eight months a year."

Prof. Wirt explained that in a given unit sixteen teachers take care of sixteen classes of 40 children each. Eight teach the academic course, three supervisors of the play, one is the principal who assists in the playground work, one teaches nature, one teaches art another teaches music. The children are liberated at the class room door and taken in charge by the playground supervisors. The schools are open from eight until five. There is a play supervisor on the ground in the morning before school opens, during the noon hour and after school closes for the day.

To illustrate the worth of playgrounds, Prof. Wirt told of an experiment in which a stenographer took all the words uttered in a school room one day. One tabulation of results revealed that the teacher asked questions at the rate of two a minute and that he spoke nine words to the children's one.

He recalled that many adults are disappointed in life because of inefficient training in their youth. He pointed that the Gary plan puts the child's inefficiency squarely before him and he works out his own mistakes and corrects them by the course of study.

"We do not want to make school easy," he continued. "We do not want to sugar-coat the hard problems, but we do want to stiffen the child's backbone; we want him to appreciate what he can do. The problem of the school is to bring the children into a situation where they can do difficult things and enjoy them."

Prof. Wirt told the teachers that two years ago it was decided to leave the schools open on Saturday but not to make it compulsory for the children to attend. Now over half of the pupils enrolled go regularly on Saturday and take their class room and work shop along with their playground classes. He told of the hatred, with which many of the children look forward to a vacation.

Prof. Wirt talked to the teachers this afternoon on "The Care of the Child." Just before the noon intermission committees were appointed, and they were to make their report just before adjournment this afternoon. Miss Helen M. Scott sang this afternoon and the Manila high school orchestra furnished the instrumental music.

"Tells the whole story."

To say that Foley's Honey and Tar Compound is best for children and grown persons and contains no opiates tells only part of the tale. The whole story is that it is the best medicine for coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis and other affections of the throat, chest and lungs. WANT ADS BRING RESULTS

Copyright, 1911, by Thomas Dixon

As the chimes struck the hour of midnight, skeleton heads slowly began to appear peeping from the shadows of the arched ceiling and from every nook and corner of the huge cornice and pillars. Draperies of filmy crape flowing gently in the breeze were lighted by sulphurous hued electric rays from the balconies. Tiny electric lights blinked in every skeleton's sunken eyes and behind each grinning row of teeth. Suddenly two white figures drew aside the heavy curtains in the archway and the dancers marched into the somber room.

The men were dressed as shrouded skeletons and the women as worms. The men wore light filmy gray robes on which skillful artists had painted on four sides in deep colors the pictures of human skeletons.

The women wore curious light robes of cotton fiber which were drawn over the entire body and gave to each figure the appearance of a huge caterpillar. The strange figures began to move slowly across the polished floor to the strains of a ghostlike waltz. From the corners of the high balconies strange lights flashed, developing in hideous outlines and phosphorescent colors of the skeletons and long, fuzzy, exaggerated lines of the accompanying worms. The effect was thrilling.

Suddenly the music stopped with a crash. Each ghostly couple, skeleton and worm, stood motionless. The silvery note of a trumpet called from the sky. The blinking eyes of the death heads in the ceiling and on the walls faded slowly. The trumpet pealed a second signal—the darkness fled and the great room suddenly blazed with 10,000 electric lights. The orchestra struck the first notes of a thrilling waltz, and presto, in an instant the women appeared in all the splendor of the most gorgeous gowns, their bare arms and necks flashing with priceless jewels, and each man bowed before her in immaculate evening clothes.

From the four corners of the vast room were released thousands of gorgeously tinted butterflies, imported from the tropics for the occasion. As the dancers glided through the dazzling scene these wonderfully colored creatures fluttered about them in myriads, darting and circling in every direction among the flowers and lights until the room seemed a veritable fairyland.

A burst of applause swept the crowd as Nan's radiant figure passed, encircled by the arm of the leader.

Stuart nodded and clapped his hands with enthusiasm.

A more marvelous transformation scene could scarcely be imagined. When Nan had passed he turned to speak to Harriet, but she had gone. A soft hand was suddenly laid on his arm, and he turned to confront Nan, her eyes flashing with triumph, her cheeks flushed and her lips parted in a tender smile.

"Come, I'm going to honor you by sitting out the next two dances."

When she had seated herself by his side under a tower of roses he was very still for a moment. She looked up with a quizzical expression and said:

"A penny for your thoughts. Am I so very wicked after all?"

"I don't think I have ever seen anything more dazzlingly beautiful than your banquet and ball, except the woman who conceived and executed it. I was just wondering whether your imagination was vivid enough to have dreamed half the splendors of such a life when you turned from the little cottage I built for you."

A look of pain clouded the fair face, and she lifted her jeweled hand.

"Please, Jim, I'd like to forget some things."

"And you haven't forgotten?" She looked straight into his eyes and answered in even tones:

"No."

Both were silent for a long while, and then they began to talk in low tones of the life they had lived as boy and girl in the old south and forgot the flight of time.

CHAPTER XVI.

The Last Illusion.

THE longer Dr. Woodman watched the barbaric, sensuous display of wealth sweeping before him, the deeper his spirits sank. The butler touched his arm, and he turned with a sudden start.

"Mr. Bivens will be pleased to see you in the little library, sir, if you will come at once."

When the doctor was ushered into the library Bivens, who was awaiting him alone, sprang to his feet with a look of blank amazement, and then a smile began to play about his hard mouth.

"My servant announced that a gentleman wished to speak to me a moment. Will you be good enough to tell me what you are doing in this house tonight?"

The doctor paused and hesitated, his face scarlet from the deliberate insult.

"I must really ask your pardon, Mr. Bivens, for my apparent intrusion. It is only apparent. I came with my daughter. She sang tonight on your program."

"Oh, I see, with the other hired singers. Well, what do you want?"

"Only a few minutes of your time on a matter of grave importance."

"I don't care to discuss business here tonight, Woodman," Bivens broke in abruptly. "Come to my office."

"I have been there three or four times," the doctor went on hurriedly, "and wrote you twice. I felt sure that my letters had not reached you. I hoped for the chance of a moment tonight to lay my case before you."

"All right, I'll give you five minutes."

"I felt sure you had not seen my letters."

"I'll ease your mind on that question. I did see them both. You got my answer?"

"That's just it. I didn't. And I couldn't understand it."

"Oh, I see," Bivens' mouth quivered with the slightest sneer. "Perhaps it was lost in transit?"

The sneer was lost on the doctor. He was too intent on his purpose.

"I know. It was a mistake. I see it now, and I'm perfectly willing to pay for that mistake by accepting even half of your last proposition."

Bivens laughed cynically.

"This might be serious, Woodman, if it wasn't funny. But you had as well know once and for all that I owe you nothing. Your suit has been lost. Your appeal has been forfeited. My answer is brief, but to the point—not one cent. My generosity is for my friends—not my enemies."

"But we are not enemies personally," the doctor explained good naturedly.

"I have put all bitterness out of my heart and come tonight to ask that bygones be bygones. You know that in God's great book of accounts you are my debtor."

"I owe you nothing."

In every accent of the financier's voice the man before him felt the deadly, merciless hatred whose fires had been smoldering for years.

The doctor's voice was full of tenderness when he replied at last:

"My boy," he began quietly—"for you are still a boy when you stand beside my gray hairs—men may fight one another for a great principle without being personal enemies. We are men still, with common hopes, fears, joys, griefs and joys. When I was a soldier I fought the southern army, shot and shot to kill. I was fighting for a principle. When the firing ceased I helped the wounded men on the field as I came to them."

His voice quivered and broke for an instant. "You have won. You can afford to be generous. That you can deny me in this the hour of my desolation is unthinkable. I'm not pleading for myself. I can live on a rat's allowance. I'm begging for my little girl. I need $20,000 immediately to complete her musical studies. Deep down in your heart of hearts you know that the act would be one of justice between man and man."

"As a charity, Woodman, I might give you the paltry $50,000 you ask."

"I'll take it as a charity," he cried eagerly, "take it with joy and gratitude and thank God for his salvation sent in the hour of my need."

"But in reality you demand justice of me? Come to the point, Woodman, what is in your mind when you say that I am your debtor?"

"Simply that I have always known that your formula for that drink was a prescription which I compounded years ago and which you often filed for me when I was busy. As a physician I could not patent such a thing. You had as much right to patent it as any one else."

To be continued.

THREE MORE VICTIMS OF RITUAL MURDERS

Mississippi Invaded By the Dreaded Axeman.

Philadelphia, Miss., Nov. 23.—The dreaded axeman who has slain more than a score in Louisiana and Texas has extended his operations to Mississippi. The family of William Walsley, negroes, were found at their home four miles east of here, with heads crushed with an ax. Walsley's wife, Sallie, and the four-year-old child were found lying in the middle of the floor. The husband was found 300 yards from the house, in a fence corner. The indications were that the fatal blow had been struck by the murderer, when Walsley was trying to get over the fence in an effort to elude his pursuer.

According to careful figures, the victims are twenty-eight who have died in a similar manner, and who are supposed to be offerings to the Sacrifice sect or Church of God, an organization believed to consist of negro degenerates.

Reports from various sources indicate that the dreaded cult is spreading rapidly and fears have been voiced that ultimately it may prove a menace to the black race throughout the south.

KILLED HIS WIFE

Frenchman Yields to Woman's Plea to End Her Suffering.

Paris, Nov. 23.—M. Beguery, a seaguardian and former procurer de le republique at Arles, whose wife had suffered from the agonies of an incurable malady, yielded to her oft-repeated requests and killed her with three revolver shots. The couple were very attached, but her sufferings made the wife twice attempt to commit suicide. M. Beguery surrendered to the police after he had ended his wife's sufferings.

The sister of the wife arrived at the station house shortly after and exclaimed: "Beguery, you are a saint. I know what she suffered for a year and what you endured."

Madame Beguery's sufferings had made her husband neurotic, so much so that his friends feared for his reason. The event occurred at Sannois, near Paris.

LIFE OF BURNS IN THE BALANCE

Dynamiters Plotted to "Get" Detective.

ORTIE M'NAMIGAL'S STORY

Chief Witness For the Government in Conspiracy Trial Tells How John J. McNamara Laid Out a Campaign of Destruction Which Included the Blowing Up of the Room in Chicago Occupied by William J. Burns.

Indianapolis, Nov. 23.—Ortie E. McManigal, continuing his testimony, entered upon further details of the great dynamite conspiracy. The witness told of how John J. McNamara laid out this campaign and how it included an attempt upon the life of William J. Burns, the detective.

McNamara's plan, said witness, was to find out the detective's rooms in Chicago, rent rooms on the same premises and place a large quantity of dynamite in them, then at night get through the wall into the Burns office and arrange the dynamite so that the person who opened the door next morning would explode it. This was in March, 1911, and there is little doubt that some such scheme would have been carried out, said McManigal, had not the dynamiters been arrested in the month following. Another interesting story was that of the blowing up of the municipal building at Springfield, Mass., on the morning of April 5, 1911, but a few days before the arrests of the conspirators. McManigal said that J. J. McNamara sent for him and when he came here he was told to go to Tiffin, O., get some dynamite and take it to Boston and report to M. J. Young. The witness got forty pounds and when he reached Boston went to see Young. The witness and Young went to Springfield the next day and took a look at the municipal building that McManigal had gone east to blow up.

The witness told of himself and J. B. McNamara going in February, 1911, out to South Chicago and looking at the work being put up for the Iroquois company. They were delayed in putting in an explosive at the Iroquois plant, because the dynamite had frozen and was slow in thawing out.

The bringing of dynamite stolen at Bloomville to this city by the witness and J. B. McNamara was then gone over. The explosive was stored in the vault at iron workers' headquarters in the American Central Life building when first brought to this city, and later a part of it was stored in the barn of Daniel Jones, iron worker, west of this city. Late in February, 1911, McManigal went to Milwaukee, and on March 21 blew up the plant of the Western Fuel company. When the witness returned Hockin complimented him on the effectiveness of the explosion.

J. J. McNamara sent for him again and said he had planned a trip for him to Omaha, Neb. He explained that Caldwell & Drake were building a courthouse at Omaha, and he wanted this and the company's plant at Columbus, this state, blown up. The witness went to Omaha and set the explosive on the night of March 23, so that it would go off at 2 o'clock the next morning. The Columbus explosion occurred at the same time. Later witness went to Detroit to look up four places that McNamara wanted destroyed, and there purchased a map of the city. The map of the city on which the locations of the two contractors' work were marked was found on him when he was arrested.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY

Terre Haute Retired Merchant Killed Wife and Fatally Wounded Self.

Terre Haute, Ind., Nov. 23.—George Sage, a retired confectioner of this city, killed his wife, cutting her throat with a butcher knife, and then attempted suicide with the same weapon. He is in a critical condition, with slight chances for recovery.

Sage recently retired from business owing to failing health, and has been under the care of physicians.

He was a member of a well-known family. His brother died in the insane hospital ten years ago. His wife had been a clerk in the confectionery store many years before he married her, four years ago.

Fell From Old Barge.

Indianapolis, Nov. 23.—Howard and LaFollette Mann, ages seven and thirteen, the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mann, 1631 Milburn street, were drowned in Fall creek, north of the Indiana avenue bridge, when they fell from an old barge on which they were playing.

Killed by Companion's Gun.

South Bend, Ind., Nov. 23.—Harry Wild, aged twenty-nine, married, was accidentally shot and killed on his father's farm by George A. Platt, clothing merchant, who had been invited out for a day's hunting near Lost lake, six miles from here.

Self-Defense Plea Sustained.

Richmond, Ind., Nov. 23.—One ballot was required for a jury to acquit Samuel Whalen, charged with the murder of Arthur Saunders, a negro. Whalen, who is a white man, pleaded self-defense.

ARTILLERY DUEL BEING KEPT UP

Thunder of Cannon Heard at Constantinople.

A RIFT APPEARS IN THE CLOUD

Present Diplomatic Activities Indicate That Bulgars Are Preparing to Go to Turkey With Terms For an Armistice Less Harsh Than Those That the Pride of Ottoman Government Recently Was Compelled to Reject.

Vienna, Nov. 23.—For no apparent reason the departure of Archduke Francis Ferdinand, the heir to the throne, for Berlin, to meet the kaiser coincided with a remarkable crop of alarmist rumors. These represent the international situation as again verging on war as a consequence of the Russian mobilization which has led Austria to summon the reserves. Masses of troops are reported assembling in Cracow. Eighty thousand troops are reported to have already concentrated in Bosnia, where all preliminaries for a mobilization are said to be complete.

Mustapha Pasha, Nov. 23.—There was fierce fighting at Adrianople. The Bulgarian besiegers bombarded the Turkish positions furiously. The Turks replied with all their guns and attempted sallies. These were repulsed with much slaughter.

London, Nov. 23.—It is believed that within a very short time Bulgaria will come to Turkey with terms less harsh than those that the Ottoman government rejected, though the fighting continues at the Tchataldja lines.

From Sofia come dispatches telling that Dr. S. Danef, president of the Bulgarian parliament; General Savoff, victorious commander-in-chief, and General Fitcheff, chief of staff of the army, have been appointed plenipotentiaries for the Bulgars to negotiate an armistice. The appointing of these plenipotentiaries confirms the current belief that there is still hope of the speedy arrangement of an armistice.

In the meantime the fighting is confined to an artillery duel, the thunders of which can be heard in Constantinople. The Bulgars will be reinforced by the arrival of 30,000 Greeks who are marching from their successful western campaign to take their places in front of the Tchataldja lines.

The Greeks are rejoicing over another victory, for Athens hears that the famous island of Mitylene has been captured by eleven fighting ships and four transports. When the Greek ships dropped anchor in the harbor the Turkish governor came aboard the flagship and asked for delay, which was refused. Thereupon the Turkish garrison withdrew inland. The garrison numbers about 700 and is being pursued by the Greeks.

It now appears that in spite of the first dispatches from Serbian sources saying that they had captured four Turkish generals at Monastir, none of the generals was captured. The cruiser Hamidieh, which was torpedoed in the Black sea by Bulgarian torpedo boats, was towed to Constantinople stern first. She is down at the head and was damaged so that she cannot be used in this war, at any rate.

POWERS AGREED

There is Said to Be No Real Danger of a General War.

Buda Pest, Nov. 23.—The pessimism which is rampant in journalistic circles in Vienna, based on wild rumors of mobilization by Austria and Russia, of the murder of an Austrian consul by the Serbs and other imaginary occurrences, is not shared in government circles. On the contrary the situation is considered satisfactory and with perfect reason, for war is inconceivable without belligerents, and Serbia alone cannot wage a campaign against Europe, which is resolved to disallow her exorbitant demands.

Among themselves the great powers are agreed respecting vital questions and will not risk a tremendous conflict for secondary matters. Consequently there is nothing to fear on that score.

The source of apprehension is the assumption that the Russian government is lamentably weak and that pan-Slavism in St. Petersburg and Moscow is redoubtably strong, so strong that the czar's hand may at any moment be forced and a bellicose line of action be struck. Such a consummation is practically eliminated. Russia has but one policy, that of the czar, which is pacifical. The real elements of danger, therefore, are dispelled.

Paid Penalty For Crime.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 23.—James Ellis, formerly a deputy sheriff in Wayne county Kentucky, was put to death in the electric chair in the Eddyville penitentiary for the murder of Magistrate James Beatty in the latter's courtroom at Burnside, Ky. Ellis had been accused of the illegal sale of liquor. With a companion named Helton he went to Beatty's courtroom and there shot Magistrate Beatty and a constable to death. Helton was sent up for life.

CARNEGIE PLAN IN GENERAL DISFAVOR

Proposition Privately to Pension Presidents Pooh-Poohed.

Washington, Nov. 23.—Though Carnegie's plan to give all future ex-presidents of the United States or their widows a pension of $25,000 a year has not been commented on publicly by President Taft, the impression is strong that he will not accept the bounty. The few expressions obtained from senators and representatives indicate that the Carnegie foundation plan has met with almost general disapproval on Capitol hill.

It was very plain, however, that the Carnegie plan is likely to have a wholesome effect in spurring congress on to a duty which it has shirked for many years, and there may be some new pension legislation at the coming session.

President Taft's friends believe that in his case a political question is involved which alone will prevent him from accepting any offer of a Carnegie pension. While the president is said to have no definite political pretensions for 1916, there is a possibility he may again be in the field. The likelihood therefore is that he would not care to subject himself to the possibility of having the Carnegie pension matter lugged into any future campaign.

Furthermore, Mr. Taft's friends are certain that the idea of his accepting Mr. Carnegie's bounty would be distasteful to C. P. Taft, his brother, who is a very wealthy man.

Sidna Allen Convicted.

Wytheville, Va., Nov. 23.—The jury found Sidna Allen, leader of the Carroll county clan that shot up the Hillsville courthouse last March, guilty of the murder of Judge Thornton L. Masie, in the second degree and fixed his punishment at fifteen years in the state prison.

THIS FRIEND WAS FRIEND IN NEED

Rev. S. M. Hawthorne, Arrested Here,
Meets One in Kokomo Who Goes on Bond.

SAVES HIM A NIGHT IN JAIL

This Friend Takes Former Gwynne-
ville Pastor to His Home for Short Sojourn.

The accidental meeting of an old friend was all that saved the Rev. Samuel M. Hawthorne, pastor of the Greentown Christian church and well and favorably known throughout this section of the State, from being a guest of Sheriff Dan Brown at the county bastille, says the Kokomo Tribune.

Rev. Hawthorne was brought to Kokomo from Shelby county Thursday and was arraigned in circuit court on a charge of child desertion. He declared that he was penniless and that he was taken ill while working on a farm in Rush county. When the judge heard the pitiful plea of the aged minister, he appointed the county attorney to take care of the former Greentown pastor.

The judge placed the bond of Hawthorne at $300 and it began to look for a while as if the latter would have to stay in jail after all. However, he went to the office of Blackledge, Wolf & Barnes and happened to meet Henry Rakestraw, a miller at Fairfield and an old acquaintance. Mr. Rakestraw gladly went on the bond and took him to his home in Oakford for a few days sojourn.

The Rev. Hawthorne was arrested by the sheriff of Shelby county on a warrant from the court in Howard county, which had been issued on an affidavit filed by Mrs. Hawthorne, who alleges that her husband has neglected to support their two children, a boy and a girl. The children are now cared for by relatives.

Rev. Hawthorne said that he did not understand what his wife meant by filing the action. He said when he was able to work he supported them, but that when he was taken ill, he was unable to do so.

The pastor says that he has refused a pastorate which would pay $1,000 a year because of the objection of his wife. He has been working this fall husking corn on a farm in Rush county until he took sick at the home of his employer. It was at this place that the sheriff placed him under arrest. He is sixty years of age and is well liked by the Greentown people, who it is said will testify for him at the coming trial.

OPENS OFFICE HERE.

Dr. J. T. Paxton, formerly of Glenwood has opened an office here in the new Logan building in North Main street and will continue the practice of medicine. Dr. H. H. Elliott, his partner while in Glenwood, has retired from active practice.

VISIT ORPHANS HOME.

The board of commissioners accompanied by Sheriff Behout, went to Spiceland this morning to inspect the orphans' home maintained there by Rush and Henry county. The commissioners returned here about 2 o'clock this afternoon and state that conditions at the home were found very satisfactory.

THEY'RE SHRINERS NOW.

LEG IS CRUSHED.

Oscar Coons of Red Key, who is employed on the road eight miles north of the city which is being built by Nixon & Pearce, and who was hurt early this week when his leg was crushed between a traction engine and a car load of stone, was able to come to Rushville today. The injury caused him great pain.

The Modern Woodmen will nominate officers for the ensuing year next Thursday night.

LIBERTY LOSES TO LOCALS

Fast Basketball game Goes to Rushville 32 to 8.

The Rushville Independent basketball team won from Liberty last night in an easy manner, 32 to 8. The local team outplayed Liberty with the exception of the first ten minutes of play when the game was comparative close. Rushville displayed some classy team work and the team promises to rank among the best in the state. The Liberty team couldn't locate the baskets and only made one field goal during the entire game and that came near the close of the last half. Six of their eight points were made on free throws. A large crowd was present and the sport promises to be popular here this winter.

C. H. & D. WILL HAVE CHANGE IN TIME

New Schedule Affects Every Train
But Most of Changes Are Only
Slight.

NOTHING DOING ON L. E. & W.

The change of time on the L. E. & W. railroad will not affect the local branch. The new time card was announced yesterday in Newcastle and the hope-for change on the Rushville division did not come. The change in time was much on the Connersville and Ft. Wayne division. The passenger and mail service on the local branch is very poor and the people living in the northern part of the county were hoping for a change.

The C. H. & D. railway announces a change in time effective at midnight tonight. There is no change in the time on the local branch of the Pennsylvania. The new C. H. & D. time table shows many changes but with the exception of one train the changes are not great.

The exception is east bound train No. 33. It will arrive here now at 6:22 p. m. instead of 5:53 p. m. The new time table follows:

East Bound.
No. 35.....	5:31 a. m.
No. 31.....	9:04 a. m.
No. 47.....	11:30 a. m.
No. 37.....	3:46 p. m.
No. 33.....	6:22 p. m.
West Bound.
No. 36.....	1:50 a. m.
No. 32.....	5:31 a. m.
No. 38.....	11:17 a. m.
No. 48.....	5:49 p. m.
No. 42.....	9:50 p. m.

Generally fair tonight and Sunday
Colder tonight, north portion. Colder Sunday.

SEEING IS BELIEVING

We might employ many columns of advertising space in expounding the gospel of good garments—in elaborating on our ability to offer you these garments with the correct features of style, fabric, color and low price—in enlarging on the simple statement that Wooltex garments are guaranteed for two years satisfactory service—in trying to convince you that in this store is to be found an unusual showing of all kinds of ready-to-wear in quality, quantity and variety. It would be of no avail, if you do not come and see for yourself. We can please you, we will please you.

The proximity of winter bids you be lively in the selection of your winter garb. Nothing approaches in service, a neat tailored suit, and an unequalled line locally invites you. Many models in all sizes.

Warm, comfort giving coats and wide variety of materials, including chinchilla, boucle, whipcord, serge, zibeline, diagonals and many novelty mixtures. Rich velvet, plush, caracul and Persian Lamb coats combine dressiness and service.

The Johnny coat is the height of early winter fashion and an excellent showing of these nobby garments is here.
